LODGERS TRAPPED BY CHICAGO "FLOP HOUSE" FIRE

POLITICAL PROPHETS FUNNIEST THINGS MR. ROGERS KNOWS

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Of all the comical things, the socalled local party leaders take the cake.

Smith's leaders have assured him he will carry every state he has gone into, meaning he could carry all of them, but he don't like to travel so much.

Moses, the Republican apostle, told Hoover that Smith wouldn't get ten votes even on Oliver street, and that Hoover was a cinch for everything east of the Golden Gate and a chance for a split in Honolulu.

How do they know what people are going to do. You would think they had a sworn affidavit of every voter, of all the "yes" men. They are the prize.

If either candidate believes one-half of 1 per cent what any of his henchmen say, then Hoover or Smith neither one are smart enough to be president.

Yours, WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Some thousands of local radios were tuned in last night on Herbert Hoover's address in Madison Square Garden in New York. And what a refreshing contrast to the political addresses of his opponent for the presidency. Dignified, constructive, and of presidential calibre was the address of the Republican party candidate in New York last night. You will make no mistake in voting for Herbert Hoover and prosperity at the polls on November 6.

And by the way, it's just two weeks from today, when the ballotting will be under way all over the country, in the greatest presidential campaign of many years.

Following the decision of the authorities at Harrisburg, it is indicated that there will be sufficient ballot boxes placed in the large voting precincts in this city and county to hold the ballot in the ballot in the large precincts. Additional booths are also to be provided. But it must be emphasized everywhere that early voting must be the rule if all of the voters are to get through with their voting duty.

Wouldn't the big stack at the Rosena Furnace site make a fine mooring mast for the Graf Zeppelin in case it should happen to stray this way and needed to anchor?

Members of the First United Presbyterian congregation will have a magnificent house of worship, when the new structure at Albert street and Clenmore boulevard is completed, according to plans announced last night in connection with the contract for the new building. The next step in the line of progress in that vicinity will be improving of Albert street or Clenmore boulevard so that the church can be easily reached.

In calling The News and asking for the score of the game Saturday, it is only necessary for you to say "Score please" if you are seeking the score of the New Castle high school game. It is not necessary to add a lot of words to make a request such as "Can you give me the score of the New Castle High school football game?" The News has thousands of calls to answer, and the quicker you get in your request the better for all. Make it brief!

Pa Newc observes: Many of the Hallowe'en parties resorting to the old square dance and folk music of the Irish; a lady wearing a derby as a sort of dress hat. Reminded Pa Newc of a riding lady in the circus; an army of folks armed with slickers this morning following the heavy rain; and a man stepping from a street car who crashed to the ground on all fours. He apparently had a week ankle or a cramp.

Five Men Die As Fire Razes Chicago Hotel

Seven More Are Perhaps Fatally Injured As Cheap Lodging Hotel Burns

INMATES FAIL TO HEED WARNINGS

Believe Fire Started By Lodger Lighting Cigarette In His Bed

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 23. — Five men were burned to death and seven were perhaps fatally injured in a fire which swept a hotel near the downtown district here today.

The fire was believed to have originated when a guest lighted a cigarette in bed. The blaze swept the box-like hotel so rapidly that five men perished before firemen had arrived on the scene.

Flop House

The flame blocked all exits and prevented the escape of residents. The hotel is one classified as a "flop house" in which hoboes are able to obtain a night's lodging for fifty cents.

The four-story building, constructed of wood and brick, within a few minutes was an inferno. The shrieks above the din of the roaring flames spurred firemen in their efforts to rescue those imprisoned.

One of the men rescued, Thomas Starkey, told a vivid tale of the start of the fire.

Pay No Heed To Warning

"I was awakened by the crackling of flames," he said. "I got up and began pounding on the exit door and tried to rouse the fellows that were asleep on my floor. They cursed me for a lunatic and told me to shut up and let them sleep.

"Then the flames got to our floor and I tried to find the fire escape. I stumbled over the cots of the men asleep but they refused to come with me.

"I managed to get two or three up with me and together we tried to get out. On the way to the fire escape a falling timber hit me and I barely

Mexican Planes To Escort Lindy

Squadron To Meet Colonel As He Crosses Mexican Border

LINDY PLANS FOR BEAR HUNTING TRIP

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 23.—When Col. Charles A. Lindbergh arrives at Piedras Negras tomorrow to begin his bear hunting expedition into Mexico he will be received with full official honors, according to plans made public here today.

The American ace will be accorded diplomatic rating, an order issued today direct, and during his stay in Mexico he will be considered as a guest of the nation.

A squadron of army planes will meet him at the border when he crosses to Piedras Negas from Eagle Pass, Tex., Gen. Joaquim Amaro, minister of war, has sent his own Stinson plane with the army fliers to be offered to Lindbergh for his use while in Mexico.

The army planes will form an escort for the famous flier from the border to Hal Mangum's ranch near Muzquiz.

To avert any possible plans of bandit kidnapers Lindbergh will be heavily guarded, while he is in Mexican territory.

Lindbergh will be guest of minister of Agriculture Luis Leon while he is in the state of Chihuahua.

Eighty-Seven Persons Face Arrest For Picking Up Diamond Consignment

GEMS WERE STORED ON WRECKED PLANE

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN, Pa., Oct. 23.—Eighty-seven persons are "holding out" diamonds obtained in the "diamond hunt" following the abandonment of the wrecked and burned mail plane of William (Wild Bill) Hopson who met his death in the woods of Bear Hollow near Polk, Pa., last Thursday, Postal Inspector William Tafel of Erie, announced today.

If the gems, a part of the nearly 900 pounds of mail scattered about the demolished plane and salvaged by hundreds of "fortunte hunters", are not forthcoming by nightfall "John Doe" warrents will be issued Tafel asserted.

Graf Zeppelin Will Soar Over Chicago Possibly On Friday

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Dr. Hugo Eckener and his epoch-making Zeppelin crew are on their way to Lakehurst, N. J., today where their air Leviathan awaits them.

More than 2,500 men and women on their feet and singing the German national anthem bade "Auf Weidersehn" to the German air hero at the Union station here last night.

Return Via Air

They will return to Chicago Friday and will greet the city from the air as they sweep over the Central West in the Graf Zeppelin.

Last night's banquet at the Stevens Hotel was the climax of a day dedicated to acclaiming the heroism of the visitors and to good will between the United States and Germany. Uniting to sponsor it were the city, county commissioners, council of German societies and the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Illness of his wife kept Mayor Thompson away. He had been their host at a noon luncheon and hailed the flight as a "new milestone in air transportation."

Dr. Eckener, Dr. Hugo Simon, German Consul General and Admiral William A. Moffett, Chief of the United States Navy Bureau of Aeronautics were the featurer speakers.

Confusion Reigns In London, Small Cyclone Strikes

Fashionable West End Of London Hit By Cyclone; Several Slightly Hurt

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Fashionable West-End London was recovering today from the effects of a fifteen second cyclone which did considerable damage despite its short duration.

Coming without warning, the terrific wind smashed in shop windows, tore shutters from windows, ripped off awnings and several roofs, then subsided as suddenly as it came. Several persons were slightly injured by debris falling to the streets.

Pandemonium reigned among dinner guests at the Piccadilly hotel when the wind burst open the doors, swept table cloths, plates and food on them to the floor, and even dumped calmly dining patrons from their chairs.

To add to the confusion, soot from ventilation shafts belched into the room, blackening women's faces and men's shirt-fronts indiscriminately.

Governor Smith To Open Tour Of East Wednesday

Smith's First Speech In Turbulent Eastern States To Be Made In Boston

PREPARES TO ANSWER CHARGES BY HOOVER

"Whirlwind Finish" Is Plan Of Democratic Candidate On Atlantic Seaboard

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Governor Al Smith was knee-deep today in preparation for the opening of his eastern campaign in Boston tomorrow night, just as his opponet Herbert Hoover closed his eastern campaign, with his speech in New York last night.

The next two weeks will see the Democratic nominee engaged in a final slashing campaign, ranging from Boston to Baltimore, and encompassing the great centres of population that are vital to both candidates in November.

Will Take Issue.

Indications were today that Gov. Smith will lose no time in replying to the Hoover speech in New York last night. His first opportunity for such reply is presented at Boston tomorrow night.

It has been Governor Smith's complaint frequently voiced during his two speaking tours in the west, that

Chest Campaign Is Limited To Two Full Days

Whirlwind General Solicitation Campaign Will Start On October 30

WORKERS WILL SEE EACH HOUSEHOLDER

Report Meetings Will Take Place At The Cathedral Dining Room Each Day

A whirlwind campaign of two full days this year for the intensive drive of the Community Chest is the plan of Herbert Peairs campaign director, and he is shaping his plans toward that end.

"Heretofore a whole week has been taken, sometimes a few days over. This work can be done in two days if the teams will call on their prospects, and we can do this job, show that the people of New Castle do care and will give. This plan will permit the faithful workers in the drive to end their work quickly and get back to their regular jobs," asserts the director.

Start Tuesday, Oct. 30

The plan, as outlined is to start with a breakfast at 7:56 a. m. Tuesday, October 30, when final instructions will be given and the teams sent out to do their work of solicitation. A report meeting at noon, work all afternoon and a dinner at 6:15 in the evening. This will be repeated on Wednesday, October 31, with a victory dinner in the evening. It is an innovation in campaign work but it should be successful and will be if the workers put their full energy and application into the drive at the very start.

City Districted

This year the city has been districted in such a way that every householder will be seen; not a one will be missed. Each team will have a certain district to cover, with the prospect cards arranged in order and the amount of walking to cover a district will be reduced. There will be sufficient teams that the amount of work each team or each individual

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Back in the Capital after a smashing invasion of Al Smith's own New York, Herbert Hoover entered the home stretch of his presidential campaign today confident of victory in November and assured that he had delivered a telling blow in the stronghold of his adversary.

More than 20,000 people from the sidewalks of New York greeted the Republican nominee at Madison Square Garden last night in the greatest demonstration accorded him since he launched his campaign. Riotous applause which lasted for fifteen minutes greeted him as he was presented by James R. Sheffield, former ambassador to Mexico. Woman Murdered, Body Is Burned, Near Butler, Pa.

Butler County Detective Probing Case Expects Arrests Shortly

CHARRED REMAINS FOUND IN RUINS

Believe Woman Was Slain And Placed In Burning Home To Cover Crime

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 23.—The identity of a woman whose charred remains were found in the ruins of a fire which destroyed an abandoned house near here, will be established before tonight, together with the identity of her slayer, Butler County Detective F. T. Wigton announced today.

Wigton, after an investigation with Coroner W. F. Phol, declared the belief that the woman was murdered.

Convinced of Murder.

Blood found on the ground outside the house convinced Wigton that the woman was murdered, her body taken into the house and the fire started to cover the murder. A skull and hip-bones, identified by Coroner Phol of those of a woman, were found in the ruins of the fire, together with two diamond rings, a wedding ring and a watch.

Wigton declared that they obtained first clue of the woman's identity through the rings and watch, despite the fact that the jewelry was blackened and there were no monograms or initials.

The house, a rough, one-story affair, is located ten miles southeast of here along a lonely, isolated section of the Bull Creek road.

SPECIAL VOTING ORDER IS ISSUED IN NEW YORK

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Voters who are in the polling places or in line outside at 6 o'clock election night must be permitted to cast their ballots under a formal ruling issued here today by Attorney General Albert Ottinger, Republican candidate for governor.

This ruling, it was said at the capitol, will preclude the possibility of Governor Smith calling a special session of the legislature to pass a special act to keep the polls open until midnight if necessary, so every enrolled citizen can vote.

State and city officials were alarmed over the greatly increased registration and some fear had been expressed that it would not be possible for all voters to cast their ballots if the polls close promptly at 6 o'clock.

Dry Agent Shot And Wounded In Chicago Court

Veteran Prohibition Agent About To Testify Is Severely Wounded

FAIL TO LOCATE ACCUSED GANGSTER

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Squads of police and detectives today combed Chicago's Ghetto for the mystery assassin who shot and probably fatally wounded Thomas Ryan, veteran prohibition ace, as he stood in a federal courtroom here waiting to testify in a liquor case.

Ryan had just risen from his chair to be sworn as a witness when a pistol shot echoed through the room. Scores of dry agents, policemen, attorneys and court attaches stood rooted in horror as Ryan sank to the floor with a bullet in his back.

No sooner than the spectators recovered from the shock than a general panic ensued. Bailiffs began a search for Ryan's assailant. No one was found bearing a gun recently discharged.

After more than three hours' investigation authorities expressed the belief that Ryan's assassin was waiting to kill Policeman Michael Shannon, who was to have been the next witness. The gunman evidently had his gun in his side coat pocket and was getting into position to shoot Shannon when, in nervousness, he accidentally discharged the weapon.

The theory that the gunman had intended to "get" Shannon was borne out by facts in a case being heard immediately prior to the shooting.

Shannon shot and killed Silvio Colombo recently in a raid on an alleged bootlegging establishment.

HOOVER IS ACCORDED GREATEST DEMONSTRATION

velopment was punctuated by ringing applause.

Vice-President Charles G. Dawes made his first appearance of the campaign with Hoover, assailing the Democratic emphasis upon prohibition as an attempt to avoid the major issue of Republican prosperity and progress.

Democrats For State Socialism

Hoover charged Governor Smith with advocating "State Socialism" in his proposals for water power development, agriculture and state controlled liquor sales. Such policies, he declared, would lead in the end to the "utter destruction of self government and the American political and social system."

The great issue of the campaign, he told his audience ,was a "question of fundamental principle—shall we depart from the principles of our American political and economic system, upon which we have advanced beyond the rest of the world, in order to adopt methods based on principles destructive of its very foundation?"

See Victory

Hoover was showered with predictions of victory in New York State, New England and the entire industrial East during his 27 hour visit to the Metropolis. His lieutenants told him his visit would insure a New York victory.

The candidate turned his attention today to drafting an itinerary for his second transcontinental trip to California, where he must go to vote two weeks hence at his home in Stanford University. En route he will stop at St. Louis for a semi-final address. The windup of his campaign will be from the west coast, where he will speak over a nation-wide radio hook-up on the eve of the election.

Had Busy Day

Hoover's tumultuous day in New York included six lesser speeches. He interviewed hundreds of party leaders and workers from all sections of the empire state and received half a dozen delegations of supporters.

One of his visiting delegations conferred on him the title—"An American Intellectual Liberal."

The high spot of his visit was his attack on Governor Smith's policies at Madison Square Garden. He dealt with the issues impersonally, or as the policies "of the Democratic party."

Governor Smith's plan for federal commissions to deal with administrative problems such as water-power were characterized by the Republican nominee as subversive "to the very basis of liberty and freedom."

"They would destroy initiative, wipe out competition, destroy free industry free commerce and free speech," he said.

Hoover Utilizes What Others Throw Away

At Broken Hill, in Australia, the mines which had yielded lead and silver for thirty years seemed about exhausted. The community of several thousand people was dying of commercial starvation. Refuse in dumps like mountains lay about the mines. Hoover discovered a method of extricating the zinc which the refuse contained. By using Hoover's methods, the miners at Broken Hill are still busy and prosperous.

When Americans entered the World War, Hoover determined that we should not suffer from lack of a balanced diet, as every other belligerent country had suffered. He taught the housewives to substitute equally wholesome foods for the staples which military necessity forced our country and allies abroad, and he also taught them to can and preserve everything edible. "Hooverize" became a new word in the English language."

STANDARD BREWERY PLANT SOLD TO LOCAL CONCERN

which has been impossible in the past, owing to the lack of room in the present downtown location of the company's plant and lumber yard.

The lumber yard in the Grant street district will also be abandoned and all the activities of the company will be under one roof. The consideration paid in the deal is not made known.

The New Castle Lumber and Construction company consists of Andrew Dietterlie, Sr. and sons, Andrew C. Dietterlie, Jr., and Walter Z. Dietterlie. In the new expansion program of the concern, Andrew C. Dietterlie, Jr. and Walter Dietterlie, become the active heads of the concern.

There are a number of good buildings on the property purchased and which the New Castle Lumber and Construction company will use. The concern already busy at the brewing plant property making necessary repairs and it is the hope of those in charge that everything will have been completed by April 1 and that the company will be established in the new location.

Included in the buildings on the property purchased is the main building, which 90 by 104 feet in size and is in reality a six story building, with the tower, which is 98 feet in height; a complete steam power plant, a building housing the bottling department, extensive barns, garages and sheds in which to pile the lumber without any being exposed to the weather.

As has been mentioned, the New Castle Lumber and Construction company will have the buildings remodeled immediately to meet the needs of that concern.

Concerns Seek Location

Such parts as may not be immediately needed by the new owners, will be rented to small manufacturing concerns a number of which have been seeking to secure the property for some time. There is already in operation there a barrel factory that is producing a large number of barrels, which are used by the Shenango Pottery in the shipment of their ware.

There has been an aluminum manufacturing concern endeavoring to secure a part of the main building for some time to manufacture its wares. This is still a possibility, according to the new owners.

Andrew C. Dietterlie, Jr., in speaking of the purchase of the property said: "we feel that the new location will give us just the opportunity needed to expand our business to the point that we have desired for years.

"We, our father and now he, myself and Walter, have been engaged in building homes and fine business buildings for the people of this city in the same spot for the past forty-five years. Our concern has built for the grandfathers in some instances, then the sons and now the grandsons. The South Mercer street location, has in fact, been a lumber yard since the days of the old canal.

"In moving to the new location, we aim to expand and branch out and be better able than ever to engage in the business of building homes and buildings of all kinds.

"There is every possible convenience needed at the new location. We plan to not only have our mill and lumber yard as in the past but to possibly conduct a wholesale lumber distributing business. With an excellent siding capable of holding eight cars, it will make the expansion program possible and easy. With a large conveyor capable of emptying a car in fifty minutes, we will also be enabled to branch out into the coal business.

"The brewery equipment will be salvaged and sold and the various buildings remodeled to take care of our business. There will be a complete factory for the finishing of lumber in every possible manner and we will establish dry kilns for the drying and curing of fine woods. The new location also makes it possible to conduct all our business in one place and is convenient to every part of the city."

The property fronts 402 feet on Sampson street and has a depth of 180 feet to the Pennsylvania railroad property. The buildings are all of fireproof construction, being of brick, stone, steel and concrete.

The buildings were erected in 1898 at a cost of approximately $400,000. The property and its equipment became obsolete in 1918 with the passage of the eighteenth amendment, although it was operated in the manufacture of soft drinks and other products until 1923. The original equipment of the plant is still intact, but as has been previously mentioned will be salvaged and sold by the purchasers.

The Standard Brewing company, which built the plant was organized by George Lamoree, Marcuse Feuchtwanger, Henry Grotefend and E. O. Haun.

The present site occupied by the New Castle Lumber and Construction company on South Mercer street, was recently sold to the Lawrence Auto company and will be used by the latter company for the election of a large addition to the auto company buildings.

GOVERNOR SMITH TO OPEN TOUR OF EAST WEDNESDAY

Mr. Hoover declined to be drawn out on the issues which he raised in his western addresses— farm relief, prohibition and water power control.

In his speech last night Mr. Hoover mentioned these issues specifically and by name. He charged, in effect, that if Governor Smith's ideas on these issues prevail it will amount to virtually a system of "state socialism" to use the Hoover phrase.

"In effect' said Mr. Hoover, "they (the Democrats) abandon the tenets of their own party and turn to state socialism as a solution for the difficulties presented by all three'

Those who know Al Smith and his pugnacious style of campaigning did not doubt today that tomorrow night in Boston and for several nights thereafter the Democratic nominee will go after his opponent's arguments without kid gloves.

Governor Smith will leave Albany tomorrow morning for Boston with stops at Springfield and Worcester enroute From Boston on Thursday he will go to New York, through Connecticut and Rhode Island and from that familiar base shoot out during the final ten days to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newark, Brooklyn and perhaps Providence and Hartford. The governor will close his national campaign as he has always closed his state campaigns with a speech in New York city on the Saturday night preceeding election.

reports that a bag of diamonds had burst and scattered its contents over the ground.

Postal inspector Tafel arrived at the scene immediately upon hearing the reports. A fairly complete list of those who secured diamonds has been compiled, Tafel stated, and steps will be taken to obtain all of the looted gems.

Federal reserve notes and negotiable securities have been found in the charred plane wreckage. These are now in charge of Tafel and his assistants.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Forrest Buried.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Margaret M. Forrest were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock from the North Liberty Presbyterian church. The services were in charge of her former pastor, Rev. Elder. He was assisted in the service by Rev. H. H. VanCleve, pastor of the North Liberty Presbyterian church.

The Pallbearers were Frank Barber, John Campbell, Everette Moore, Edward Elder, William Tinker, and William Tinker, Jr.

Time Of Funeral

Funeral services for the late James B. McAuley of West Madison avenue, will take place Thursday, October 25 at 9 a. m. from St. Margaret's church, Seventh ward. Burial will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Jessie Cosel.

Mrs. Jessie Cosel, aged 92 years, widow of Max Cosel, veteran of the Civil war and a member of one of the prominent families of New Castle, passed away at the family residence, 35 North Mercer street, Monday evening at 9:15 after an extended illness.

Mrs. Cosel had been ill for about a year as the result of complications due to the infirmities of age. Although she was a great sufferer she bore her affliction with great patience and fortitude.

Mrs. Cosel was born in Germany, July 7, 1836. She came to this country when quite young and settled in New York City. She later came to New Castle with her parents who were among the first Jewish families to settle in this city.

Mrs. Cosel was one of the best known and highly esteemed women of this community. As long as her health permitted she had taken an active interest in charitable and religious affairs. She was a member of the Temple Israel Synagogue.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Nanette C. Linville, widow of Dr. Montgomery Linville, and one son, Robert Cosel, both at home. Her husband preceded her in death about 35 years ago.

Funeral services will be conducted from the residence on North Mercer street, Wednesday, October 24 at 8 p. m. Burial will be made in West View cemetery, Pittsburgh Thursday morning.

Mrs. Gibson Buried.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Gibson, widow of George Gibson took place from the home of her son, James Gibson of Sheridan avenue, Monday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. H. J. Buckingham, pastor of the Maitland Primitive church officiated. Selections were song by the church choir.

The pallbearers were Edward Gibson, James Kerr, John McConnell, George Wood, George Price and Bert Webber. Burial was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Anthony Reitz.

Anthony Reitz, aged 87 years, died Monday night at 11 o'clock at his residence 428 Galbreath avenue, after an illness of complications.

Mr. Reitz was born in Franklin county, Pa., January 24, 1841, a son of Samuel and Eva Nero Reitz. He was a veteran of the Civil War, enlisting in 1862 with Co. H. 102nd Regiment, Ohio Infantry, serving with Captain Edward Bentley. He was discharged in 1868 at Nashville, Tenn.

Mr. Reitz was one of the best known citizen of the South Side having lived in that part of the city for many years.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Mary Reitz he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Farley of Youngstown and Mrs. Zora Gardner of New Castle.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday October 25 at 2:30 p. m. from his late residence. Burial will be made in Homewood cemetery.

Mr. Boughter Buried.

Funeral services for the late James Boughter took place from the home of his daughter Mrs. R. D. Campbell, 712 Cleveland avenue Monday afternoon at 2:30 with Rev. A. J. Randles of the Second United Presbyterian church officiating.

Mrs. Caldwell and Wilma Wood sang a number of selections during the service. Many beautiful flowers banked the casket, expressing sympathy and esteem.

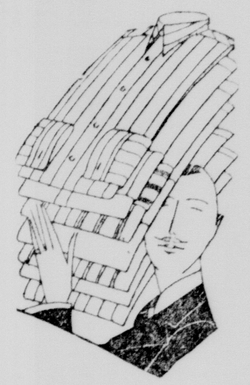

The pallbearers were W. A. Burns, Harry Galbreath, J. B. McClaren, Joseph Campbell, Thomas Lukins and Thomas Hamilton. Interment was made in Graceland cemetery.

Mrs. Hilliard Funeral.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Anna J. Hilliard wife of Elmer E. Hilliard were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 from the family home, 705 Cleveland avenue. Rev. J. L. Stratton of this city was in charge of the services.

The services were largely attended by relatives and friends. The pallbearers were James E. Brady, George Palmer, Thomas M. Donnelly, Edward Donnelly, Joseph Donnelly and Ward Sizer. Burial was made in Oak Park cemetery.

National Republican Ticket

FOR PRESIDENT
HERBERT C. HOOVER, of California

FOR VICE PRESIDENT
CHARLES CURTIS, of Kansas

VOTE (X) PROSPERITY

IN HIS race for the presidency Governor Smith must surmount no greater obstacle than the prosperity the nation has enjoyed under two successive Republican administrations. All other questions sink into insignificance in comparison with the question of maintaining good times. Prohibition, farm relief and other subjects are beside the point, if the true issue is Prosperity vs. Hard Times.

The Republican party is making the most of its claim that its protective tariff policy is the foundation of prosperity; and since prosperity is indisputable, the Republican argument is extremely difficult to meet. It is well to remind the electorate that the nation's prosperity is at stake. The Republican party has proved what it can do. The Democratic party can anly promise.

Having abandoned its old battle cry of free trade, the Democratic party in this campaign is promising tariff protection for everyone. The party platform and nominees propose a general revision of import duties.

In taking this position they risk the opposition of all classes of industry and labor affected by the tariff. Experience has shown that a threat to revise tariff schedules is almost as disastrous to industry interested in that schedule as drastic downward revision would be, because it arouses apprehension, paralyzes new enterprise, and destroys banking confidence in the business that is affected and which may be irreparably injured by lower tariff rates.

SMITH NOT A VOTE-GETTER

ORDINARILY statistics bore most people, but once in a while past performances have some value in supporting or not supporting present-day contentions. For reference purposes it is essential now and then to consult records.

Governor Smith's boosters, for instance, have made much of their candidate as a vote-getter. On the surface it might appear that way, but here is an interesting fact, the full significance of which can be grasped in an instant:

There are sixty-two (62) counties in New York state, and outside of the city of Greater New York the most Smith ever carried were four—Albany, Rensselaer, Clinton and Oneida—and that was in 1926 when he ran against Ogden L. Mills. Two years prior to the Smith-Mills campaign, when Smith ran against Colonel Roosevelt, with the exception of Albany county, the Tammany candidate lost every county in the state except the five counties—Kings, Queens, New York, Bronx and Richmond comprising Greater New York.

Is anything more needed to show the objection to Tammany outside of New York City and in rural sections? Emphatically, no! Entrenched as it has been in New York City, assailed by every newspaper in the metropolis, Tammany managed to control, largely so, the election of Smith in 1924 and 1926, but beyond Tammany precincts, clearly enough, Smith is not, by any means' a vote-getter. This is substantiated by indelible election returns.

BEAUTY CONTESTS

THIS has proved a great season for beauty contests, and the end is not yet. The picture section of almost every Sunday paper is decorated with pictures of prize-winning beauties. And few are the week-day issues that are not generously sprinkled with cuts of aspirants to coveted first-place distinction.

While average male readers will be disposed to concede that all such fair claimants to exceptional pulchritude are restful to the eye and worth a lingering look, few of them will be inclined to admit that the lovely faces at which they look are near as lovely as certain faces that they carry photographed in their hearts. To almost every man one woman is more beautiful than all others. She may not have perfect features. Her coloring may be far from exquisite. Her hair may not be up to date. But, to him, she is beyond compare. Therefore average men are unwilling to take the opinion of mere judges as to relative merit of the claims of beauty contestants to superiority. They are pretty enough, but as for being the most beautiful—well, the average man, being gallant by nature, would prefer not to say.

And there is the average woman. Can the aspirants to beauty honors, or the winners of them, for that matter, expect to get by that critic? Not much. What average woman would grant that the gleaming beauties who smile at them from pictured pages are unsurpassable? Not one. This critic might concede that the prize winners are fair—except for blemishes from which the average woman who is doing the talking thinks she is free.

Pride of locality also confuses judgment on this matter. Would any dweller on the Atlantic seaboard concede that the prize-winning beauties of Pacific slope surpass those of the East? Of course not. Would inhabitants of Podunk grant that the blue-ribbon beauty of Washington outshines any one of a dozen maidens in their home-town? And, again, of course not. Beauty contests may be counted on to bring out an array of beautiful maids that would gladden the heart of any average man and fill that of the average woman with something approaching envy. But as for deciding anything—well, hardly.

Radio to Mars.

First Campaign Miracle.

Beware Half-Baked Ideas.

Silly Big Fleet Idea.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Britain's postoffice will attempt to reach our neighbor, Mars by radio next week. A psychic student who believes he has had telephatic communication with a Martian lady, requests the government radio station to send his message and it is accepted at 36 cents a word and will be sent into space on an 18,500 meter wave length.

If the lady hears and answers, which she won't that will be interesting. In any case the government will get $1.80 for the five-word message. This will be remembered when our young planet, only a few thousand million years old establishes regular communication with neighbors in space.

Baltimore reports the first miracle of this campaign. Little James Joseph Burlage, 7 years old was run over by a truck and hospital doctors marveled that he remained alive. Before leaving home he had stuffed under his blouse a package containing 25 posters with Governor's Smith's portrait on each.

The thick paper package acted as a shock absorber and saved the life of the little boy who was very happy when kind doctors posted the 25 pictures all around the operating room. He who suggests that a much simpler miracle would have stopped the truck before it hit the boy, simply shows ignorance of miracles.

It's dangerous to give advanced ideas to those not ready. Russians have discovered that in China.

Chinese soldiers in possession of Chenchow decided to take Bolshevism as they understood it, literally gave orders to kill all that had money, destroy all deeds, mortgages and other written evidences of property ownership and sentenced the rich to execution.

That was going some distance beyond Karl Marx especially when they compelled children 12 to 15 years old to act as executioners in some cases compelling them to kill their own parents.

That sort of thing is apt to cause a reaction. And it is difficult to sort out property afterward.

Secretary Wilbur says we should have a navy equal to that of any other country.

Not unless we have a mercantile marine equal to any other. Except to convoy and defend commercial ships afloat, warships are out of date.

If we wanted to blockade foreign ports we might imagine a use for fighting ships. But even blockading will be done hereafter with airplanes and super-submarines of long cruising range.

Congressmen before wasting money on a big floating navy might ask Secretary Wilbur these questions: 'What did England and Germany's great fighting ships contribute to the last war? Do you really believe that an enemy nation would send battleships to attack our coast cities and meet our submarines and aircraft?"

What this country needs is not a floating navy as big as that of any other nation but air fleet and submarine fleets much greater than those of any other nation.

Get those and you may stop worrying about war.

The British put out great steel nets in the channel to protect their transports from submarines. But no country would undertake o control our submarines with steel nets in the Atlantic along 6,000 miles of our shores.

Johns Hopkins in 125 families, rich and poor, will investigate origins, causes and frequency of colds.

What is foolishly described as "only a cold" is the most harmful of diseases, causing a loss of hundreds of millions a year in wages. And what is worse, it weakens the system exposing it to attack from disease that destroy life—pneumonia, diphtheria, heart disease and a dozen others.

Never neglect a cold for each one actually shortens your life. And remember the great Dr. Osler's statement that the best thing for a cold is "two days in bed."

China asks the right to try foreigners that offend against her citizens or laws, instead of letting them be tried in courts set up by their own nationality. That is reasonable.

But China's request should be granted only on the assumption that penalties on conviction would be reasonable from the western point of view. The old dowager empress condemned offenders to be sawed in two lengthwise.

That would be too severe for any European constitution.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:09. Sun rises tomorrow 6:21.

Sometimes it's to a man's credit to forget what he knows.

A lady, not young and unmarried, but quite nice, told us she was no clinging vine. Most of 'em are not when they don't have one to cling to.

Some one asked us how our tomato crop finally turned out after there were no tomatoes on the vines about the first of August. The crop turned out big and we had the finest tomatoes we ever raised. We picked the last half bushel last week and still have some. There were not a half dozen green ones left and they would have ripened had we left them on the vines. The crop was late but great.

The sexy magazines are useful in one way. They prove that a lot of people who don't look it can read.

After November 6, Gov. Smith will be like the Hints and Dints man in one respect at least, and that will be that we were both defeated for office in the same year.

One of the worst murderers this country ever knew objects to going back to the Allegheny county jail because the murderers and others there are not allowed to smoke cigarettes. They can smoke pipes, cigars, soft coal or anything, but no cigs. They can also chew tobacco. Not being allowed the pills is a great inconvenience to those jail birds. The cigs surely could not make those babies any worse.

A Pittsburgh man got a divorce from his wife because she kept an ash shaker under her pillow to use on him, wet his suit of clothes when he wanted to go to a ball game, locked him out so he had to sleep in the police station, pointed a gun at him, threw a can of milk at him, forged his name to a note and collected his wages, sent him a note telling him his brother was dead, and some other things. The court thought she had a pleasing personality but did not believe her when she denied the charges. Wot a life! Wot a life!

Many a man praises virtue who never thinks of practicing it.

Dear Fred: Did all the alleged Republican leaders spend all their money and effort licking you last spring? So far they have not done a thing in Lawrence county in supporting the Republican ticket. Do you think they are for Smith? They have all been Democrats in all important elections in this city and county and their keeping quiet looks suspicious to a lot of people. Less than two weeks until election time and not a thing done. There is no doubt of your Republicanism, Fred.

And I should say: "You are crazy!
Give that book to you. Nay!
Nay!"

Record Of Motor Fatalities Brings Demand For Remedies

Large Number Of Cases In Which Driving Rules Are Violated Cited As Evidence Of Urgent Need For Reform

National concern over deaths in traffic accidents last year arises from the report by experts of the National Safety council. Their figures show that among 50,000 motor accidents of various kinds examined, there were more than 19,000 in which the responsible driver did not have the right of way. In 7,000 cases he was speeding, and in an equal number he was on the wrong side of the road. More than 5,000 of these accidents followed a driver's failure to signal his intentions. There were 4,000 due to "cutting in" and nearly as many happened when the man at the wheel drove off the road.

"The mounting fatalities justify all the urgings and teachings of all the safety organizations affiliated with and not affiliated with this national council met for discussion of growing problems," asserts the BIRMINGHAM NEWS, with the argument that, "as has been demonstrated in many cities, organized safety work brings definite and visible results. Education of both drivers and pedestrians," continues The News, "has had an effect in promoting habits of caution, by constantly urging observance of existing laws and the exercise of caution and common sense. Children cannot be expected to maintain the vigilance naturally looked for in persons of mature years. In the hopeful eyes of youth, every place is a potential playground; in the crowded neighborhoods of the poor, the streets are the only playgrounds. Youth is thoughtless because it is youth. In seeking to hold the increasing death rate to a minimum, that fact must be kept at the front of our minds."

"The Safety Congress statisticians have not yet offered a remedy for the troubles revealed in their survey," says the KALAMAZOO GAZETTE, "but they have, at least, placed fresh emphasis upon the fact that a large percentage of our serious accidents are directly traceable to the prevalence, on the streets and highways, of conduct unbecoming ladies and gentlemen. If we could only apply to automobile driving the same standards of courtesy and consideration that have prevailed for centuries in other fields of human activity, our traffic safety proolem would be more than half solved." The Gazette condemns the "stubborn determination to 'get ahead' regardless of the other fellow's rights," and contends that "the driver who habitually tries to beat the stop signal or who makes a practice of steering a snakelike course through congested traffic lanes simply puts his own convenience above the comfort and safety of everyone else on the road."

"The man who plows ahead when he does not have the right of way is simply inconsiderate of the rights of others," declares the UTICA OBSERVER-DISPATCH, and the YAKIMA MORNING HERALD, holding that the figures given "help to indicate the dangerous forms of traffic law violation," adds that "it is worth noticing that the biggest single division listed, that of the driver who did not have the right of way, was caused chiefly by the driver's selfishness." Demanding a campaign of education, the NEW YORK EVENING POST insists that "only careful driving can keep our roads safe."

"We are not cutting down the auto death rate. Fatal accidents this year show an increase of nearly five per cent over last year," states the ERIE DISPATCH-HERALD, with the argument: "Our national habit of refusing to face unpleasant facts is having woeful results. The automobile is a magnificent invention. It has widened our horizons, increased our freedom of movement, and dealt a body blow to provincialism. But, at the same time, the automobile is an extremely deadly weapon when put in the hands of the incompetent, the careless or the selfish. The increasing motorization of the country calls for a number of things. It calls for larger and more capable traffic squads, uniform traffic laws and signals, strict, countrywide drivers' license laws, stiffer sentences for traffic-code violations. But most of all, it calls for a new attitude on the part of every individual driver in the country."

"The late Phineas T. Barnum said, away back in the horse-and-buggy age," recalls the FORT WORTH RECORD-TELEGRAM, "that a certain type of individual is born at the rate of one a minute. When the horse began to fade from the picture, mass productionists of note adopted the Barnum figures for the speed of their supply. Now we have highway statistics which appear to be making prodigious efforts to reach the one-a-minute class. During the past year there was one person either killed or injured every 23 minutes on the streets and highways of the nation. Such figures as are available for 1928 indicate that the rate has speeded up to one every 20 minutes—maybe less. By 1938 we will be keeping step with the procession, and reach a rate of one a minute."

"Yet we go calmly about our driving," exclaims the WATERLOO TRIBUNE, "realizing the probability of accidents of a fatal nature, but taking our chances. It might be supposed that the record would have influence on us. But it doesn't. Statistics are ready by most of us. 'Too bad,' we admit. Then step on the gas. It is just like the fire hazard. Once a year—one week a year—we have statistics showing how dangerous to life and property fire is. We remark on the danger and then forget about it. Eight thousand people are marked for death in automobile accidents during the next three months. Any one of us may be included in the list. Yet we give the possibility no thought."

Taking up the question of grade crossings, the COLUMBUS EVENING DISPATCH states that "while these accidents constitute only a small part of the spectacular nature of the menace, more has not been done to eliminate them. Most crossings on main highways," continues The Dispatch, "have warning signals consisting, usually, of flashing lights or ringing bells, yet the killings go on, indicating no small degree of blame on the part of drivers. * * * Nearly every grade-crossing accident, investigations show, could have been prevented at the cost of only a few moments spent in approaching cautiously and stopping."

Just how long the Scotch are for "whiskey" Harry Lauder has given the cue, but remained for a visitor to a sparse-populated district in Scotland to learn how necessary a commodity was Scotch whiskey to the "He-lander."

"How far distant is the nearest doctor?" asked the visitor. "Ten miles and a bittock," replied his host.

"Dear me," said the visitor; "that's very awkward. How do you do when one turns suddenly ill?"

"Ou, just gie him a glass o' whusky."

"But if the glass of whiskey has not the desired effect, what then?"

"We just gie him another ane."

"But what if two does not set him right?"

"Well, we just gie him three, or mebbe fower; and it that's no eneuch, we fill him fou' and pit him till his bed."

"Yes, yes, but if whiskey given in any quantity will not cure him?"

"Ou, well, then sir," gravely replied the Scott, "if whuskey winna cure a man, he's no worth curin', an' may well be latten slip."

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE BUSINESS OF WRITING

Success in any business may be difficult, and often it seems that luck rather than merit and hard work, prevails.

It is very common to hear a father warning his son against following him in his profession. A doctor doesn't want his son to be a doctor, a minister warns his child against the hardships of the clerical calling, and grocers hope none of their children will grow up to the precarious and confined life of a grocer.

As a matter of fact it takes pluck and indurance and alertness to seize opportunity usually to get on in any calling.

Life is generally a struggle and the only people who succeed in it are those whom the California professor described as having "intestinal stamina."

But I sometimes think that about the most dangerous business in the world is that of writing. Even if you write a good book nintenths of its fame depends upon how the publisher jockeys it.

Writing is a curious thing. Everybody thinks he can write. If he could set down his grand and glorious ideas as they come to him people would read them greedily.

Every successful author has been deceived by multitudes asking for guidance, help and criticism about their work.

One thing the would-be writer should lay to heart is that what is called "influence" is of no value. When one sends a manuscript to a publisher it doesn't do any good to say that General Pershing and Calvin Coolidge has looked over the manuscript and liked it. The publishing house has one or more readers of its own and the manuscript must be judged by them, and with them no influence goes.

If there is any other way to get matter published than to peddle it around until you can get some publisher to fall for it, I don't know what it is.

A young girl, who thought she felt the divine afflatus, called the other day upon an author of some fame and asked him kindly to critize her work. He did, and said it was no good.

He should have side-stepped. It does no good to give a budding author your honest opinion. If its unfavorable he doesn't believe you. And if its favorable it doesn't help particularly. The best way is to tell him your sick, or too busy, or incompetent to judge, or dead.

The young girl in question after being unfavorably criticized by the author went out and committed suicide.

If you are very sensitive and suicidally inclined, better not attempt writing. But if you are a good loser and have plenty of the aforementioned intestinal stamina" you might try it.

Cheer For 20 Minutes Before Hoover Can Get Chance To Start Speech

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Herbert Hoover received the greatest ovation of his campaign in Madison Square Garden in the home town of his Democratic opponent Monday night.

The home city of Alfred E. Smith furnished the largest indoor audience Mr. Hoover has faced in his campaign.

A full hour before the time for the Republican presidential nominee to appear every one of the 18,000 seats in the Garden was filled. It was an enthusiastic crowd that joined heartily in the Republican campaign songs and cheered the notable who arrived early.

Vice President Charles G. Dawes, who spoke ahead of Hoover, got a standing cheer from the audience.

Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the eastern advisory committee, also was given a big hand as he took his seat on the speakers' platform.

While the crowd waited for the arrival of Hoover, a couple of bands, placed at opposite ends of the arena, played Republican campaign tunes and the crowd joined in the words to the music.

As the Republican candidate appeared on the speakers' platform the vast throng rose to its feet cheering.

Hoover bowed first to one side and then to another and after the demonstration had continued for several minutes, surprise was plainly written on his face.

He finally moved over beside Vice President Dawes, who greeted him with a smile.

The cresendo of cheers swelled and swelled and the nominee finally sat down beside Dawes. The crowd again and again set up cheers.

Cheering Directed.

Finally, under the direction of an announcer, it gave three rousing cheers "for Herbert Hoover".

Fifteen minutes after Hoover reached the Garden the demonstration was still in progress. Bands stationed at alternate ends of the vast structure whooped it up. The crowd mixed shouts with ringing cow bells and sounding of other noise-making instruments.

A chorus far up in the gallery to the left of the speakers' stand broke into a chant of "We Want Hoover."

Maj. Gen. James G. Harbord who presided in the absence of Elihu Root, seemed determined to let the crowd have its way despite the fact that the demonstration was breaking into the radio time allotted for the speeches of the nominee and the vice president.

Then, as the tumult again died away, a band broke into "Dixie", turning from that into a medley of southern songs and again into music of the war period, with "Tipperary".

Group cheering broke out in a section to the left of the speakers' platform.

20 Minutes and No Letup.

Twenty minutes after he had entered the Garden, the demonstration was still going strong. As the band ceased playing, intermittent yells came from the galleries and then a second band struck up.

Hoover took his seat behind Vice President Dawes and as the noise went beyond the quarter of the hour, the two began conversing.

The music again ended and there was a tinkle of cowbells from far up among the rafters. These were followed by cries of "Hoover, Hoover".

Then the band began playing "There's a Long, Long Trail a Winding," and the crowd sang the words tinkling their cowbells again as the tune ended.

As Gen. Harbord rapped for order another cheer swept over the hall, but the general broke through the applause to announce that the assemblage was to honor Vice President Charles G. Dawes and Herbert Hoover.

Again the throng burst into cheers. As the applause died away, Harbord said:

"This is the last time that you will have an opportunity to see Herbert Hoover as a private citizen."

This brought another din of cheering ending with horn blowing from the gallery.

"Greeting to Next President."

Harbord introduced James R. Sheffield, former ambassador to Mexico, as the presiding officer.

"This is New York's greeting to the next president of the United States," Sheffield said.

"From his experience Herbert Hoover knows that the golden west also has a place on the sidewalks of New York."

There was another burst of applause. It was renewed when Sheffield referred to Mrs. Hoover.

Mrs. Hoover arose and bowed. The audience stood up with her and increased the vigor of its cheering.

Sheffield, presented Dawes as the first speaker and again the crowd was on its feet cheering while the band played "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight."

There were cries of louder as he began his speech, but they were silenced as he swung into his prepared text.

Many of his remarks renewed the applause and as the vice president concluded with a reference to President Coolidge, the crowd again went wild.

This was only a forerunner of a tumultous ovation which Hoover received as he was introduced by Sheffield.

The nominee stood before the microphones, fingering his manuscript as more than 18,000 spectators stood cheering and waving American flags.

The applause echoed and re-echoed through the vast arena and there was a shower of paper from the upper galleries—the typical New York greeting to those it welcomes.

As the demonstration passed the ten-minute period, Mrs. Hoover, who had arisen at its start, took her seat.

Select Cast For Senior Hi-Y Comedy

Senior Hi-Y Will Present Comedy At High School Auditorium December 4

Two returned soldiers are now in New York city. One is a poet, the other an artist. They are broke, they wire rich relatives stating that they are married. Now it happens that these rich relatives which happen to be an aunt of the one doughboy and an uncle of the other decide to visit the newly weds who really aren't newlyweds and—well, that would spoil it. See if for yourself in the senior Hi Y play "Let's All Get Married," which will be given at the senior high school auditorium on December 4.

Monday night at the Y. M. C. A., members of the senior Hi-Y met in their regular weekly banquet meeting. Following the customary period of devotions and business meeting, the cast for the play was selected. Five young men will take the parts of the young ladies and their identity will be left for the audience to figure out.

The play will be coached by William Thomas, advisor of the Hi Y club who will be assisted by others from the senior high school.

Music for the presentation of the farce comedy will be in charge of Kenneth Myers and the senior Hi Y orchestra.

The young men selected to take part in the play are Donald McGown, Rodger Meermans, Donald Williams, William Hartman, Junior Brown, Joseph Lockley, Melvin Moorehouse, Clifford Pollock, Merwin Johns, and John Stone.

John Boston will act as business manager for the play, Otto Pearsal, advertising, and William McLaughlin will be in charge of seating arrangements and ushers.

New Shoe Concern Takes Over Room Of "Shoe Market"

"Shoe Market" forced To Sell Entire Stock In Next Ten Days As Result

The much patronized shoe market, located at 3 East Washington street, is quitting business November 5 and in it's stead, occupying the same location will be a brand new store, representing the largest shoe manufacturer in the world.

Having only ten days time in which to dispose of the vast stock the Shoe Market has taken drastic steps in the way of price reductions to clear the room of every pair of ladies, men's and children's shoes. The management stated this morning that when the doors open on their gigantic quitting business sale Thursday that New Castle will see a new record for low prices and all costs and profits are forgotten in their supreme effort to sell out within the allotted time.

Johnstown Steel Worker Killed, Three Injured

Blast In Bethlehem Steel Works Is Being Investigated By Officials

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 23.—Bethlehem Steel company officials, investigating the blast which killed one man and injured three others in the open hearth department here, today attempted to learn what caused the explosion when molten metal was poured into a mold. The metal had just been removed from the huge converters, workmen said.

The victim, Andrew Miholka, 54, was horribly seared by the hot metal. He leaves a wife and six children. The other three were severely injured but the condition fo Park Custer, 41, was pronounced most critical today. The other victims are Peter Daley, 26, and Isadore Kunkola, 44.

Six Miners Killed By Dynamite Blast

Failure Of Miner To Fix Dynamite Charge Properly Cause Of Fatal Blast

(International News Service)

BECKLEY, W. Va., Oct. 23.—Failure of a miner to properly tamp a charge of dynamite before firing it today was believed responsible for a local explosion in the McAlpin mine of the McAlpin Coal company near here late yesterday in which six miners were killed and another overcome by fumes.

Rescue crews penetrated into the workings shortly after the blast and removed the bodies, together with one man who had been overcome by gas but was not believed to have been seriously hurt.

The mine was not badly damaged the explosion having been only local according to officials. An investigation is under way.

Cuticura Heals Eczema In Rash On Face And Scalp

"Eczema broke out in a rash on my face and soon spread to my scalp, making my hair dry and lifeless. The breaking out itched and burned, causing me to scratch and scratching caused eruptions that used to bleed. It disfigured my face and my hair fell out when I combed it.

"I had been bothered with the eczema about three months when I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I purchased more and after using five cakes of Cuticura Soap and four boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed, in about five weeks." Hanlon Maps Out Routes For Game Fans On Saturday

New Castle football fans who will journey to Washington, Pa., Saturday by auto have had their entire route mapped out by Bernard Hanlon, secretary of the New Castle Motor club. The entire distance one way is 82.5 miles by the route which Mr. Hanlon has mapped and is the shortest and best route which may be followed by the fans in going to Washington.

There are but two detours on the route, and both are over improved roads which will not harass the travelling speed and comfort of the New Castle folks. The detours, according to the word received here by Mr. Hanlon, following his inquiry, are in good condition so that there need be no worry in making the trip via auto.

Below is printed the route which Mr. Hanlon has mapped. To the left is listed the miles from New Castle that you are at each point. Two different road routes must be followed; route 18 and route 51.

National Exporters Confer With Hoover

Praise His Work In Assisting Exporters Of America At Meeting

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington News Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 22. — Among officials of a score of exporting firms, members of the Hoover-Curtis National Export Committee, who called upon Herbert Hoover in his personal headquarters here to praise him for his assistance of American exporters, were representatives of two of Pennsylvania's most prominent expert concerns.

N. W. Wilson, vice president of the Hammermill Paper Company of Erie, and Ernest T. Trigg, president of the John Lucas Paint Company of Philadelphia, were included in the export group.

Elon H. Hooker of New York, who acted as spokesman of the organization, told Mr. Hoover that American exporters are grateful for the assistance they have received from the bureau of foreign and domestics commerce of the department of commerce which was virtually established and built up during Mr. Hoover's term as secretary of commerce.

Replying to their greeting, Mr. Hoover emphasized foreign trade developments as one of the undertakings which has a direct bearing upon the future prosperity of the nation.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

WATER-BIRD WITH NO USE FOR LAND-LUBBERS.

"Mrs. Darter scorned Cormorant's greeting and hissed with scorn at what she considered his ignorance in regard to Darter customs.

"'Don't flatter yourself' said she. 'I have never swam after any Cormorant yet and I don't think that I ever shall. I did not come to se you at all but to fetch my husband home. One of the children slipped from the branch on which he was perching and twisted his right wing. Poor baby fell into the water but I managed to fish him out—he is too small to swim far as yet, you know—and bound up his wing with a reed. I don't know as much about such matters though as Mr. Darter and I wanted him to come and see if I had done it right.

"'However I see husband has already gone and as he is swimming in that direction I suppose he is homeward bound.'

"'He is; he heard you scream,' explained Cormorant 'and he left at once. He didn't even wait to say good-by.'

"'Of course he didn't I will say this much for Darter he is a good husband and father,' declared Mrs. Darter proudly. 'But I am wasting my time talking to you. I must follow him. Only I wish that you would answer my question. Have you any respect for birds that are afraid of the wate.'

"'O course I have.' Cormorant was quite decided about it. 'How could a bird like the water if he had never ben near it and lots of feathered folk are born and live most of their lives in the depths of forests? The only time they see the waves is when they cross them on their twice-a-year travels. I have met some very fine land birds on my journey. In fact I don't like to stay in the water too long at a time myself. I—

"'Here wait a moment. What is your hurry Mrs. Darter?'

"Mrs. Darter had dropped into the water and was now swimming after her husband who by this time had reached the stump where they lived and was wrigling out of the water toward the nest. The lady paid no attention to Cormorant's cry to come back other than to hasten her pace. She did however, twist about her snaky neck and call a scornful good-by over her shoulder.

"'Come to see us some time Cormorant, do; but I must ask you not to talk so much about the land birds. Neither husband nor I have any use for them—we think they are "up in the air" entirely too much and it annoys us to hear about them. You have a right to your own opinions of course, but kindly keep them to yourself.

"Cormorant said he was never so taken back in his life. 'Why—but'—he began, but stopped when he saw that Mrs. Darter was paying no further attention to him. He might as well have been speaking to the air for all of her. Bending her long neck she ducked her head under the water and disappeared for several moments. When she came up again she was so far off that he could not have made her hear him unless he had screeched and he certainly wasn't going to waste breath on explaining matters if she didn't care any more about hearing him than that. He thoughtfully scratched his head with one claw."

Splendid Recipe To Stop A Cough That "Hangs On"

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be made at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this home-made remedy loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which usually follow the "flu", are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

FELT MISERABLE ALL OVER BEFORE TAKING KONJOLA

Miseries Of Kidney Trouble And Sluggish Liver Ended By New Medicine.

MR. FRANK G. RUNKLE
Seavy Photo

Many people of this city who have suffered for years and were never able to find relief, are declaring that this new Konjola medicine restored them to health. In most cases, these people have stated that Konjola so completely ended their ailments that none of their old troubles returned and they have been able to quit taking medicine entirely. This accounts for the great streams of public testimonials which are coming from men and women of this vicinity, and received at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, this city, where the Konjola Man is personally introducing and explaining this advanced remedy to crowds of people daily. One of the latest reports came from Mr. Frank G. Runkle, R. F. D. No. 1, Ellwood road, New Castle:

"Since taking Konjola I am free of every health trouble I ever had", said Mr. Runkle, "I am sure that there is not a better medicine in the drug store today to build up a completely rundown system."

"I have never been able to find out what made my condition so rundown. It seemed to me that the least exertion would completely tire me out. My liver was in a very sluggish condition and in spite of all kinds of laxatives that I would take, my system kept on being congested with the poisons of my body. My eyes had a yellowish color in them and the headaches used to bother me all the time. My kidneys were in a weakened condition also, and at night when I would go to bed I had to rise three or four times. This made it awful hard for me to get any rest at all and I would get up the next morning feeling worse than when I went to bed. Finally my health got so bad that I could not go to work and when I say that in two years time, I only worked 11 weeks, I am not exaggerating a bit. I had taken lots of medicines and they did not do me any good, and I was getting awfully discouraged.

"I noticed in the paper one night where a case similar to mine had been relieved by Konjola and I decided to get some. I took it for only four days and I began to notice a great change in my health. I kept right on taking this medicine until I had completed a full treatment. Now my liver never bothers me at all and my bowels move with greater ease and freedom than ever before. My eyes are bright and clear now and those awful headaches that I formerly suffered are gone. My kidneys are well and strong now and when I go to bed at night, I can sleep right on thru until the next morning. When I get out of bed, I feel strong and healthy and all during the day I can work right thru without getting the least bit tired. My food digests right and I have a better appetite than before. I shall always strongly recommend Konjola so that others may gain the same benefits that I did.

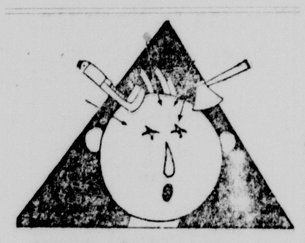

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Konjola contains juices from 32 plants—more than other medicines. It is a new compound that works with the sufferer's food, restoring more healthful action to the important organs (stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels) and producing new energy and glorious health in a natural way, thru the entire inner-system.

Mary Astor and the delightful bathroom inspired by this lovely First National star

"Lovely smooth skin has quickest appeal"

says Richard Wallace, director for FIRST NATIONAL

SATIN-SMOOTH SKIN — its lovely youthful freshness touches the heart! What a thrill grips the audience when the close-up reveals the exquisite perfection of the screen star's skin.

Knowing this, motion picture directors make flawless "studio skin" a first essential, for the screen star must constantly face the glaring close-up lights.

Nine out of ten screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap. There are in Hollywood 433 important actresses, including all stars. 417 of these use this fragrant, white soap.

All the great film studios have made it the official soap in their dressing rooms.

"A smooth skin—'studio skin'—is one of the most important assets a screen star has. Like every girl and even more than most girls I have to guard my skin. I always use Lux Toilet Soap—it's lovely."

Mary Astor

MARIE PREVOST is considered one of the most alluring stars in Hollywood. "To find a soap as delightful as the choice soaps you get in Paris, is a joy. Lux Toilet Soap gives my skin such satiny smoothness," says this Pathé star.

RUTH TAYLOR, the famous little blonde who stars with Paramount, says . . . "I guard my skin as my most priceless possession and know that Lux Toilet Soap treats it gently."

General Prosperity Is Substantiated By Manufacturing Men

National Manufacturers In Annual Convention At New York City

Concerns Make Better Report Of U. S. Conditions Than Year Ago

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The general prosperity of the nation received a convincing substantiation here today at the convention of the National Association of Manufacturers through a report on a survey which showed 93 per cent of 4,000 manufacturers with an increase in business over last year. Nearly twenty per cent of those answering the questionnaires declared that trade conditions are excellent and forecast continued expansion.

Every industry and product reported upon makes a better showing for the twelve months than the replies did a year ago. Building supply concerns do not show that the building trades have decreased activities. The outlook for winter building throughout the country is regarded as favorable by only less than 15 per cent than those predicting the same last year.

Expect Good Winter

A slight improvement in the textile industry, one which has been regarded as a weak spot in the industrial army, is now shown by the manufacturers' survey.

Better expectations for winter trade are harbored by 94 per cent of the nation's industrialists.

The supply of all classes of labor is regarded as normal although 13 per cent of the employers report a shortage of skilled workers and two per cent need unskilled labor. In 1927 only 8 per cent were asking for more skilled labor.

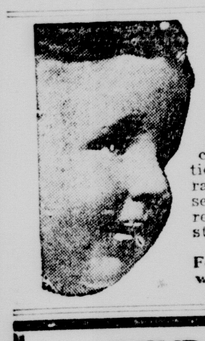

Wage increases were made by 77.4 per cent of the industries, 4.5 per cent being large increases and 72.9 per cent smaller. More than 99 per cent of the association's members are free from strikes or lockouts. Increased production over 1927 is reported by 65 per cent of the concerns, against 50 per cent for last year.

Attack Freight Rates

The relation of railway transportation to the economic welfare of the nation was discussed by Landon C. Bell of Columbus, Ohio. He made a vigorous attack on what he termed unfair freight rates and cited the case of the West Virginia coal industry and its relation to the railroads and to the competing field of the Northern field. He accused the Interstate Commerce Commission with "continuous assistance" to the Northern coal operators. He warned that this was not a local problem, but that it involved dangerous precedents which might affect various industries.

Stressing the importance of railroad prosperity to the general net work of industry, E. B. Leigh, president of the Chicago Railway Equipment company, pointed out that when the railroad make normal expenditures on their properties to keep service up to standard, general business is good.

S. P. Bush of the American Rolling Mill of Middletown, Ohio, declared that the stabilization of employment of both labor and capital was one of the paramount problems before the country today. Particularly the purchasing power of the workingman should be on a firm and stead basis, he said.

Two Ways to Avoid Sour Stomach

PAMPERING the stomach as you grow older is one way to keep out of trouble! But it's far more pleasant to eat what you choose, and let Pape's Diapepsin keep the stomach free from excess acid. Plenty of people past "three-score-and-ten" keep stomachs young because they know this one secret.

Because it is so quick, so safe and so sure in ending digestive troubles; millions rely on "Pape's Diapepsin." "Pape's Diapepsin" is unequalled as an indigestion remedy and dietary corrective, yet it costs only 60 cents a package at all druggists.

If your stomach ever torments you get "Pape's Diapepsin" at once and recapture the pleasure of care-free, painless digestion. You may have felt that nothing can help your particular difficulty, but so have others to whom this remedy proved a pleasant surprise. This experiment with diapepsin may do as much for you.

May Finish Piers Late In December

William Sandman Makes Correction To Story On North Street Bridge

William Sandman, foreman in charge of the carpenters at the North street bridge construction job, wishes to correct a statement which appeared in the article concerning the bridge in Monday's News.

In the article, a statement saying that the workmen would be ready to lay the floor of the bridge by Christmas was credited to William Sandman. This is an error, Mr. Sandman points out. What Mr. Sandman said, his letter to The News reveals, was that he hoped to have the piers and abutments completed by Christmas.

Lindbergh has taken out an automobile driver's license. And we had hoped he would continue to play safe by keeping to the air.—The Chattanooga News.

GALLIPOLIS, O., Oct. 23.—Miss Drussie Bates, 22, of Rice, Ky., on the way to Irontin, O., to be wedded to Edward Baldridge, was killed instantly when she jumped from the car which she thought was going to collide with another. Her neck was broken. Baldridge was uninjured when the car went into a ditch.

THE ONE PLACE WHERE IT PAYS TO PLAY WITH FIRE

THEY'LL build you a huge fire at a certain place in Chicago—they'll heat a door or wall red hot and turn a hose on it—they'll do all sorts of striking and ingenious things to see how long a certain device will stand up under punishment or how soon it will burn up or blow up or break.

It's a dramatic place—the great buildings of Underwriters' Laboratories—where they "play with fire" in testing building materials, electrical devices, gases, chemicals, hose, extinguishers, home utilities, and endless other things—all for the purpose of safeguarding your life, protecting your property, and reducing the cost of your insurance.

Here is the largest testing laboratory operated by any business or profession. Everywhere its exhaustive tests are accepted as authoritative and its labels of approval recognized as Symbols of Safety.

This invaluable and unique engineering service is one of the great contributions by the Stock Fire Insurance Companies to the protection of life and property in the home, in the factory, and wherever you may be in town, city or country.

Service . . . Not Profit . . .

is the underlying purpose of this work. The comprehensive equipment maintained by the Laboratories, and its corps of experienced engineers, afford unequaled facilities. These are available at actual cost.

Educators, engineers, scientists, underwriters and others journey far to study the equipment and the unusual tests that are always under way. The public is always welcome at Underwriters' Laboratories.

The long experience of the Laboratories in this work, and the methods employed for keeping in touch with manufacturers, users, and all other sources of information, have resulted in a general recognition of its standards and recommendations.

This work for the conservation of life and property is but one of the many contributions for the benefit of the American public made by Stock Fire Insurance Companies that transact more than ninety percent of the fire insurance business of this country.

Rosary Trick Costs $9,000

Slick London Irishmen Pull Old Trick To Take American's Money

MANY VICTIMIZED BY SAME OLD GAG

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Good heavens! Don't they ever read the papers?

A man named Harry Shaffer, described as a "business manager" from Philadelphia, has been done out of somewhat over $9,000 by the good old whiskered rosary-trick by a couple of slick London Irishmen.

The fact that Mr. Shaffer has been able to capture one his despoilers—though not the one who actually got the money—and the added fact that a bunch of keys took the place of the classic rosary, do not affect the principle of the matter. The principle is very clear; never entrust $9,000, or any other large or small sum of money, to a confidence man.

If all the newspaper articles published in American newspapers about American tourists who have been done out of their dollars by the rosary trick were placed end to end they would certainly reach across the Atlantic. Yet it is a mathematical certainty that the same old gag will find the usual percentage of victims waiting for it next season.

Still, there is nothing like re-iteration. Let it be said again, for the benefit of intending tourists, that if you happen to meet an agreeable stranger on the boat, or on the Strand or the Champs Elysees, you may safely talk to him; if he invites you to have a drink or a lunch in London, Paris or Berlin, you may accept without great danger; but if—and this is the crucial point—if while you are strolling along with him, another stranger just ahead of you drops a rosary, a prayerbook, or a bunch of keys—

And if your companion restores them to him and learns that he is an Irishman who has a million dollars to distribute to charity (having newspaper clippings to back up the story)—

And he wants you to help him distribute it, requiring only that you give him your pocketbook as security—

Then the thing to do, without more delay, is call a cop, a bobby, or an agent de police.

Otherwise, like innocent Mr. Shaffer, you may catch the bandit later, but you will never more see your $9,000.

Special Services In Interest Of Gospel Center

Will Be Conducted In Central Presbyterian Church October 29 And 30

Rev. G. A. Leichliter, pastor of the Prospect Avenue Baptist church of Buffalo, N. Y., will be the speaker at the special services conducted on Monday and Tuesday evening, October 29 and 30, at 7:45 in Central Presbyterian church of this city under the auspices of the New Castle Gospel Center, the president, E. J. Berquist, announced today.

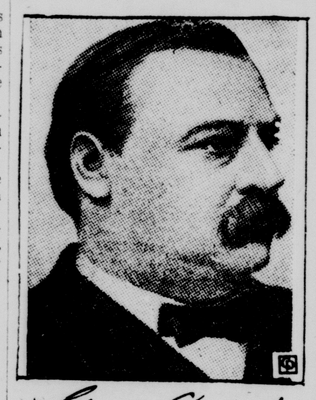

A number of special musical selections by Rev. Leichliter will be outstanding features of the evenings. There will also be special numbers by some of New Castle's leading singers.

Further announcement concerning the Gospel Center will be made at these services. The work of the center will be outlined at this time.

Picking Presidents

1892: Cleveland vs. Harrison Again

By CHARLES L. MULLIGAN
Written for Central Press and New Castle News

Grover Cleveland

An ex-president ran against a renominated president in '92. Popular interest in the presidency had grown enormously. The second Cleveland-Harrison contest brought out 12,000,000 votes. This was an increase of 33 per cent in eight years, during which time the population had increased only 16 per cent.

Populism helped to bring about this boom. The free silver movement, which had its origin in the silver state capitalists, had developed into a semi-Socialist cult among the farmers. The Populist convention at Omaha put forward James B. Weaver, of Iowa, with a platform calling for free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of sixteen to one, the initiative and referendum, the income tax and postal savings banks. Democrates of Colorado, Kansas, North Dakota and Wyoming voted for the Weaver electors, and Weaver carried the first three of these as well as Idaho and Nevada.

Cleveland had been nominated at a Chicago convention and Harrison at Minneapolis. John Bidwell, of California, was named by the Prohibitionists, and the Socialist Labor party nominated Simon Wing, of Massachusetts.

The McKinley tariff was again the principal issue between the older parties. Cleveland, for the third time, had a popular plurality, and for the second time won the electoral college. Harrison passed into history as the only "sandwich president"—his term falling between the two Cleveland terms—and Cleveland is on the presidential lists as both the twenty-second and twenty-fourth in line of succession.

The electoral vote was as follows: Grover Cleveland, New York, and Adlai E. Stevenson, Illinois, Democrats, 277 votes; Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, and Whitelaw Reid, New York, Republicans, 145. James B. Weaver, Iowa, and James G. Field, Virginia, National People's party, 22.

The popular vote: Cleveland, 5,554,414; Harrison, 5,190,802; Weaver, 1,027,329; Bidwell, 271,058.

(This is the twenty-seventh of a series of 35 digests of presidential campaigns. The twenty-eighth will be: "1896: McKinley vs. Bryan.")

Local Young People Will Attend Ellwood Church Conference

Meeting Is Annual One Of Beaver Valley Y. P. C. U.

A number of New Castle young people will journey to Ellwood City next Saturday afternoon for the annual fall convention of the United Presbyterian Young People's Christian Union of the Beaver Valley Presbytery. The four U. P. churches of this city will be represented.

The afternoon session will open at two o'clock, with a banquet at 5:30 and the evening conference at 7:30 p. m. Subject relative to young people's work will be discussed at both the afternoon and evening meetings, although the chief address of the evening session will be delivered by Dr. J. Alvin Orr, pastor of the First U. P. church, Northside, Pittsburgh.

A number of trophies are to be presented to various groups at the conference, including the national trophy won for the third time by the Beaver Valley presbytery at the recent Conneaut Lake Park convention. An attendance banner will be given the society with the greatest representation of its membership present.

It is expected that Miss Myrle Patterson, president of the Beaver Valley organization, will preside over the sessions of the annual affair. More than 700 young people of the presbytery will attend.

Princeton Man At High School

Dr. J. D. Spaieth, Of Princeton University, Speaker At High School

Monday morning Dr. J. D. Spaieth, Professor of Literature of the Princeton University spoke to the students of the Senior high school. The subject he spoke on was "Whether the Boys and Girls are taking Advantage of the Higher Education which is being given them by Our State and City."

Prof. Spaieth answered this question by relating a story of two boys to compete in a tree cutting contest. One of these boys began to chop the trees designed him while the other was sharpening his axe. "The boy or girl who must sharpen his axe should make a good job out of it stated Dr. Spaieth. The same thing applies when you are in school. You are here to sharpen your axes which are your brains for greater problems and while you should sharpen your axe so that you can face the problems placed before you in later years.

The professor also stated that he believes the athletics should interfere with studies and that studies should also interfere with athletics. He also pointed out the fact that when we are playing a game we should play to win and that when we are playing or working we should do both hard in order to make well rounded character.

Later in the afternoon Dr. Spaieth spoke at the Highland U. P. church.

Says Ten Herbs Helped Her In Wonderful Way

New Castle Lady Claims New Medicine Put Her On Road To Health.

"Ten Herbs certainly has helped me in a wonderful way," was the recent statement of Mrs. Mary Oleszycki, 1902 Penn Avenue, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this celebrated new herbal compound to crowds of men and women of all ages.

"Before using your medicine, I was in a badly run-down condition," Mrs. Oleszycki continued. "I felt weak—seemed to be aging before my time. Indigestion caused considerable pain. My appetite failed me completely, and I dreaded to eat. What little I ate filled me with gas, and a substance as sour as vinegar would come up in my throat. I became so nervous that the slightest noise annoyed me. Severe headaches came on me, and I would get so dizzy that I would have to stand still a minute and close my eyes to recover my balance. There were sharp pains in my back and loins. My rest was broken by having to arise several times during the night.

"After reading about Ten Herbs in the paper, I purchased a bottle, and was soon on the road that leads back to health. My digestion has improved, and gas and nauseated feeling have been greatly relieved. My appetite is improving in a splendid way, and I can retain food. Dizzy spells have passed away, and headaches are not so severe as they used to be. My nerves are in good condition, and the pains in my back and loins have been very much relieved, so that I can enjoy a good night's rest. I shall continue using Ten Herbs for awhile, as I feel sure it will soon give me glorious health. I gladly recommend Ten Herbs to other sufferers."

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

No Other Car Like This
A New and Larger Victory Six
by DODGE BROTHERS

Until you have seen, experienced and passed upon Victory smartness and performance, you can't possibly realize what a great car the new Victory Six is—and why the world is so emphatically sold on its amazing value.

NEW AND EXCLUSIVE Victory Six construction sets the highest standard yet known for riding ease and roadability.

BODY AND CHASSIS are mutually designed for each other. The body is bolted directly to the chassis frame, replacing the usual body sills and eliminating body overhang.

RECENT AND VITAL improvements have been announced including still greater roominess and luxury, wider doors and windows, greater vision areas, more generous leg room and still richer interior appointments.

BRILLIANT Victory Six performance is unparalleled for quick pick-up, instant acceleration, speed and flexibility.

Three Great Driving Advantages of Exclusive Victory Construction

Lowering the center of gravity brings the weight of body and passengers nearer the ground. You feel that you are riding IN the car and not ON it. The Victory grips the road more firmly, and is safer and easier to handle on sharp curves.

Victory riding ease on all kinds of roads is nothing less than marvelous. The strength and rigidity of Victory coachwork contributes to the enjoyment of passengers by eliminating squeaks and rattles.

The perfection of Victory balance benefits all phases of performance. Steering is amazingly easy, acceleration is faster and smoother, and hydraulic four-wheel braking is extraordinarily efficient.

PRICES—Touring Car, $995; Roadster, $995; Coupe, $1045; 4-Door Sedan, $1095; DeLuxe Sedan, $1170; DeLuxe 4-Pass. Coupe, $1170; Sport Roadster, $1245; Sport Touring Car, $1245; Sport Sedan, $1295—f.o.b. Detroit.

Your present car, and subsequent payments in convenient amounts, will put you in immediate possession of Victory Six luxury, speed, power and performance. A demonstration tells the story. When may we give you one?

Dairy Sire Train Here November 9

Stop Will Be Made For Half Day At P. And L. E. Station In New Castle

FARMERS MAY TRADE SIRES

Though the Better Dairy Sires special train which will be in New Castle November 9 is scheduled on the New York Central lines, the stop here will be made on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad near the P. & L. E. depot, according to announcement made by the committee in charge here.

The train will stop at 8:30 a. m. and will be in the city until 12:30 o'clock. The visit will extend thruout all of this time and the lecture hour will be at 10:30 o'clock.

F. L. Rentz, general chairman of the committee in charge for Lawrence county, will preside at the program meeting. A. A. Borland and E. B. Fitts, cattle experts from Pennsylvania State college, are expected to be here to address the gathering of interested dairymen and townspeople.

The local committee would have it known to the dairymen that it will be possible for them to trade in a scrub sire for a pure bred sire which has a guaranteed high record and productive ancestry.

In Lawrence county F. L. Rentz is chairman of the joint committees composed of business men and dairymen. The business men are represented by Ira Ramsey and James W. Cole; the dairymen by N. E. Sampson, J. A. Boak and W. H. McCulloch.

Contrary to the belief of some perhaps, the train is not a money making tour despite the fact that sires are sold. It is under the auspices of state and national departments of agriculture, farm organizations, dairy associations and Chambers of Commerce in the some 15 counites of the state wherein the tour is being conducted.

Y. M. C. A. Clubs Start Bible Story Telling

Two Winners Will Be Selected From Each Indian And Pioneer Clubs

Winners Will Compete For Championship Before Crowds In December

Friendly Indian and Pioneer clubs are now contesting in the Bible story contests which will be one of the week-end activities each week from now until Christmas time when the competition meet will take place and the winner of the story contests in the eight clubs will be decided.

Each boy in each Friendly Indian and Pioneer club enters the Bible story competition. At each meeting, a group of boys give their story and a winner is picked. When all of the boys have had their opportunity, the two best in each club will be selected.

There will be 16 winners in the eight clubs which are in the city and under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A. William Thomas, boys director, who is in charge of the Bible story activities.

It is not known as yet which church the grand contest will take place at. It is thought that perhaps the Indians will choose one church and the Pioneer clubs another, but the complete plans have not been formulated as yet.

The rules for the contest are that each boy must try out in the contests. They are to receive aid from no one in making or delivering the story. It must be a story adapted from a Bibical story.

Several of the Friendly Indian clubs have already started their preliminary stories between the members of their own clubs. Thus far, the Black Hawks, Cherokees, Wyandottes and Iriquois have selected some winners. However, none of the final speakers have been decided and will not be until the final contests near Christmas time prior to the main inter-club contest.

Winners thus far in the clubs have been Raymond MacLaren, Thomas Cramer, Harold Sparson and Robert MacLaren of the Black Hawk tribe; James Fox, William Frick and Byron Hoon of the Cherokee club; Carl Custer and Robert Jenkins of the Wyandottes; and Wendall Allen of the Iriquois.

Other clubs have not held their preliminary story telling meetings as yet. According to Mr. Thomas, who is in charge of the work, all of the meetings of the clubs will be taken up with this work until near the first of the year. It is an annual affair in these boys clubs in this city.

State Red Cross Does Health Work

Pennsylvania Chapters Participate In Four Major Activities

WILL CAMPAIGN FOR MORE RURAL NURSES

By ARTHUR C. WIMER.
Special Washington News Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 23.—Reaching into a field not developed by any other agency and using methods peculiar to the national organization, the American Red Cross chapters in Pennsylvania in the last fiscal year participated in four major activities: Public health nursing service, first aid and life saving service, home hygiene and care of the sick service and the nutrition service according to a statement made public from the national headquarters here.

The campaign to better health conditions is conducted through the chapter members and is a community campaign fitted to the problem of each county, many of the chapters operating public health nursing services which they support in whole or part, the national headquarters states. The Red Cross is the largest single employer of public health nurses in rural communities.

It is expected that the campaign to increase the number of rural nurses will be extended to Pennsylvania. The public health nursing service should be extended to those rural communities where there is no public health nursing service and where although there is provided this service there is no parental or infant welfare work according to the belief expressed by officials of the Red Cross here.

Good Interest In Special Services At Second Baptist

The revival services now in progress in the Second Baptist church are growing in interest and attendance. The evangelist, Dr. A. J. Payne, is preaching powerful sermons each evening.

At the service last evening Dr. Payne preached from the subject "An Open and a Closed Door." The speaker stressed the thought of the unsaved coming to Christ before the door of mercy be closed forever. This evening the evangelist will preach on the theme "The Father's Great Love."

The campaign will continue through this week. On Friday evening Dr. Payne will preach on "Divine Healing".

Chest Now Has Almost $23,000

Over $2,500 Is Added To Fund At Advance Gifts Committee Meeting

SEE ALL PROSPECTS EXHORTS PRESIDENT

Almost $23,000 is now in the New Castle Community Chest through the efforts of the Advance Gifts committee, it was revealed at a report meeting of the committee, which took place Monday afternoon in the board room of the Chamber of Commerce, states Herbert Peairs, director of this year's campaign.

At the Monday afternoon meeting, $2,600 was reported by the solicitors. Daily the teams are gaining momentum, and with two more report meetings yet this week, Mr. Peairs expects that the total made by the Advance Gifts committee will be around $30,000. This amount will be a fine start on the campaign, and will leave but $50,000 to be raised in the general campaign, or when the intensive drive is made.

President William F. Moody was present at the meeting Monday afternoon and made a brief address. He stressed the point that the slogan "To Care Is To Give," which has been adopted for this year, is absolutely right, and if the people of New Castle care for the institutions in the Chest, they will give and give liberally. Analyzing the reports made to date, Mr. Moody pointed out that the teams which had made the largest returns for their institutions were the teams which had the largest number of prospects.

"It is just the law of averages working again," he concluded. "If you see the prospects you have you will get the average number of subscriptions. Let us all go out and work hard, see every prospect we have, and get the money!

"We are asking for a total of $80,000 this year, which will be divided between nine institutions. This means that the people of New Castle should subscribe about in the same proportions as they did last year. In calling on your prospect, you will be helping the drive materially if you work for a duplication of last year's pledge. This is what we need."

The next meeting of the Advance Gifts committee is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, October 24, at 4:30 in the board room of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce.

COLLEGE CHEER LEADER NAMED

Kenneth Dyer

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 23.—C. Kenneth Dyer, a member of the junior class, has been elected head varsity cheer leader by a vote of the student body of Westminster.

Dyer is a graduate of Schenley high school, Pittsburgh, where he was head cheer leader for two years. He will have a number of assistants on his cheer leading team, including a number of freshmen competitors.

According to revise plans made last spring, a class in cheer leading will be run each fall under direction of Jack Hulme and from those on the cheer-leading team a varsity leader will be selected.

Dyer's assistants for this year are Kenneth Hemer, New Kensington, and Louis Kiefer, Pittsburgh. Dyer is a member of Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity, a member of the varsity debating team, and is an assistant business manager of the Holcad.

ENTERTAINS AID SOCIETY.

One of the most pleasant social gatherings of the past week was on Friday evening when Mrs. Ralph Ayers entertained the members of the Aid society of the Methodist church at her home, with Mrs. R. C. Bilger as associate hostess. The earlier part of the evening was devoted to a business meeting with the president, Mrs. Charles Simpson presiding. The annual chicken supper and bazaar was arranged to be held on Thursday evening December 6 in the Presbyterian church dining room.

After the business period a social time was enjoyed. In a guessing contest Mrs. Grace Wishart won the honors. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. E. L. Ayres. The home was attractively decorated with fall flowers.

Those present were Mrs. E. Reese, Mrs. Lloyd Mitcheltree, Mrs. William Kerr, Mrs. Esther J. Smith, Mrs. H. K. Gilliland, Mrs. Laura Wilson, Mrs. J. R. Meek, Mrs. A. W. Graham, Mrs. Ossie Headings, Mrs. Laurance Mitcheltree, Mrs. J. P. Clark, Mrs. Charles Wallace, Mrs. H. M. Stinedurf, Mrs. D. E. Funk, Mrs. James Black, Mrs. Charles Simpson, Mrs. Francis Taylor, Miss Lois Kerr and Mrs. Grace Wishart.

Hostesses for the month of November are Mrs. Laura Wilson and Mrs. Chas. Wallace.

PULASKI NOTES.

Danger Signals of High Blood Pressure

"Dizzy spells, hot flashes, pains in the head, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, and nervousness usually indicate high blood pressure," warns physician who found treatment to reduce it.

These are symptoms which show an accumulation of poisonous waste matter in the system or that one or more of your organs has weakened and caused the heart to be overtaxed. Check it at once for it is known high blood pressure brings on hardening of the arteries, and other serious conditions.

Norma, a physician's prescription, reduces blood pressure so surely it is regarded as a great medical success. Often one bottle brings prompt relief. Ask for Norma at any drug store.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION IS AGAIN DEFIED

Electric Bond And Share Company Refuses To Give Information

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—For the second time the Electric Bond and Share company of New York today defied the Federal Trade Commission in its power propaganda investigation.

Ralph B. Feagin, a vice president, took the stand and declined to answer questions of Judge Robert E. Healy, commission counsel, concerning the propaganda expenses of the Electrical organization.

"Until the fundamental question raised by us is determined judically," Feagin said, he would remain adamant in his refusal to answer questions.

The company challenged the commission's power on the grounds it had exceeded its contitutional authority to compel the production of what Feagin described as private and confidential information.

Before Feagin took the stand John F. McLane, company counsel, served notice his organization had not receded from its position of last week that the commission had not the constitutional right to compel information regarding financial disbursements. He was ordered to sit down by Commissioner McCulloch before completing his statement.

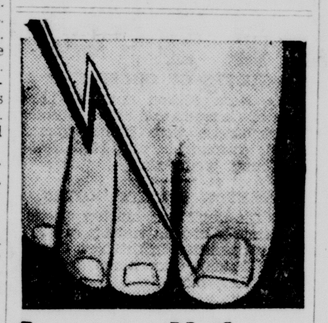

McLane's statement asserted the Electric Bond and Share company "has made no disbursements to influence or control elections of presidents, vice president or members of the United States Senate and therefore has no vouchers or records with respect thereto."

"As to any other matters," the lawyer said, "we must respectfully decline to submit witnesses for examination or to produce records or papers until the fundamental constitutional and legal questions have been adjudicated."

McLane said his organization stood ready to lend every assistance in bringing about a speedy adjudication of the question.

Feagin, on the advice of counsel, refused to answer practically every question propounded by Judge Healy.

"Have you examined the records to see if there has been any senatorial or presidential campaign contributions since 1923" Healy asked in opening the examination.

Ingrown Nail Turns Right Out!

Pain Stops Instantly!

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so tougher, the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh,and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

Decision Affects U. S. Estate Taxes

Federal Estate Tax Is Affected By Ruling Of Judge William Green

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Partially nullifying the federal estate tax, Judge William Green, of the U. S. Court of Claims, former chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, in a ruling today virtually held that where taxes are to be collected in connection with gifts, the government must show that the transfer of property was made in actual expectation of death.

The ruling materially modified former holding of the Court of Claims and is contrary to the practice of the treasury department, which in most cases had held where estates were divided within two years prior to death taxes were collectable on property transfers.

Judge Green's decision overruled the Internal Revenue Bureau which has made an additional tax assessment of $56,000 against an estate which had been divided sometime prior to the death of the owner.

Study of the facts were taken up by the Internal Revenue Bureau, where officials said that if the precedent is permitted to stand there will be a reduction in the proceeds from the estate tax.

American Navy Will Celebrate 153rd Birthday

October 27 Set Aside As Navy Day By Navy League Of United States

BELONGS TO PEOPLE SAYS NAVY LEAGUE

October 27 is the 153rd birthday of the United States Navy. Each year this day is set apart under the auspices of the Navy League of the United States as Navy Day, so that the American people can better understand the navy. October 27 was the day chosen because it is the birthday of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, who did so much for the upbuilding of American sea power and influence.

In a government such as our own, the rule is by public opinion, and public opinion to be sound, must be informed. It is the purpose of Navy Day to indicate that the navy belongs to the American people and to the nation as a whole. It is not a navy yard districts, not a navy of seaboard importance, but it is the greatest utility of national insurance, says the league.

Our lack of things military to the point of unpreparedness, has been demonstrated in the five major foreign wars in which these United States has been engaged. In all of these wars, the sheer pluck, daring and initiative of the United States sailors have decided the issue. The day, says the Navy League of the United States, for such victories is past, and never again shall we find our enemy so weak in naval preparedness.

Leadership is to the strong—and until the time comes when the only security needed by mankind shall rest in the hearts of men and nations, we should keep our navy as strong as any, concludes the statement of the Navy League of the United States.

Prohibition Agents To Have Examinations

Government Desires Men For Positions; Must Be 23 Years Old

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington News Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct.—Civil service examination for federal prohibition agents of Pennsylvania will be held in the state in the near future, November 20 having been established as the last day upon which applications for examination will be received by the civil service commission in Washington, the commission announces. The commission states that the examination will be held in thirty cities in the state.

The examination will not be conducted in New Castle, but may be taken in Butler, Pittsburgh, Oil City, Kittanning and Erie. Of the thirty cities named, these are probably the most convenient for Lawrence county residents desirous of being examined.

The examination will consist of mental tests, practical reports based on the duties of the position, and a rating on training, experience, and fitness. Applicants must have twenty-third but not their fifty-seventh birthday on the date of examination. The prohibition bureaus states that men are desired for the position.

Full information concerning the examination may be obtained by addressing the civil service commission in Washington.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Harry announce the marriage of their daughter, Fern Irene, to Earl Hutchison, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchison of New Wilmington, Saturday at 5:30 at the home of Rev. Edward Shaeffer of East New Castle. Miss Ora Mae Harry, cousin of the bride, and Charles Davis were attendants.

The bride was dressed in a gown of cocoa satin and georgette, with accessories to match. A beautifully appointed wedding dinner was served at the bride's home for the immediate families. Pink and white colors were prettily arranged for decorations.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchison, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nordquist and James and Harry Simpson, Ora Mae Harry and Charles Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Harry and children, Edwin and Mabel.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison will be at home to their friends at New Wilmington after November 1. The bride is a graduate of Coitsville high school. Mr. Hutchison is also a graduate of New Wilmington high and is employed by the post office there.

NEW BEDFORD NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Coulter and son Charles, of Youngstown, called on Mrs. Mary Hood Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Harry were Darlington callers Sunday.

Martha Allen of Coitsville called on friends in town Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church and their families were entertained last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Murdock of Brookfield. About 45 were present. The evening was spent in games, and at a late hour a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Murdock, assisted by Mrs. Wetzel, Mrs. Gilkeson and Mrs. Nettie Harry.

GENIUS AND RELIABILITY.

The wild force of genius has often been fated by nature to be finally overcome by quiet strength. The volcano sends up its red bolt with terrific force, as if it would strike the stars; but the calm resistless hand of gravitation seizes it and brings it to the earth.—Bayne.

SAVED BY MOLASSES.

A ship in danger of destruction by mountainous waves was saved by the captain pouring a 70,000-gallon cargo of molasses overboard. The molasses, the uncrystalized syrup drained from raw sugar, had the same effect as pumping oil overboard, and stilled the water around the ship.

Out Goes All Rheumatic Poison

Torturing Pains And Swollen Joints Quickly Vanish

If you suffer from agonizing rheumatic pains, swollen inflammed joints and suffer intensely it's because your system is full of the dangerous poisons that make thousands helpless and kills hundreds years before their time.

If you want quick, safe relief take one teaspoonful of Rheuma night and morning. From the first day you will realize that when Rheuma goes in rheumatic agony goes out.

Rheuma helps to force the dangerous poisons out of the system in the natural way—that's the secret of its success.

Rheuma will absolutely stop your rheumatic suffering or it will cost you nothing. Just step into McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., and ask for a bottle of RHEUMA, for they and druggists everywhere sell it with a positive guarantee of money back if it does not rid you of all rheumatic misery.

Swimming During Winter Is Urged By State Health Head

"Swimming is one of the best forms of exercise. It brings into play more muscles at a time than pernaps does any other form of physical activity. Until recent years this helpful recreation was largely limi to the summer season. And for grown-ups, even then, meant only an occasional dip during the two-week vacation .Latterly, however, the indoor pool has gained wide popularity and the seasonal restrictions to swimming have consequently in large measure vanished," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary of Health today.

"Many mature people could, with much improvement to their general well being, regularly patronize the indoor pool. Assuming that a physical examination has not brought to light anything to prevent exercise of this character, the swimming pool, if properly and reasonably used can be of decided benefit not only to the younger people but to those of middle age also.

"In this connection, however, there are certain sensible rules the observance of which will limit disease hazards and result in a maximum benefit. They follow:

"1—Choose a pool where cleanliness is a prime consideration of the management.

"2—Avoid stale water pools or those in which the water is not adequately protected by chlorination and constant flow.

"3—Use your own bathing suit. Commercial suits if not sterilized have been known to pass on serious communicable diseases.

"4—Keep your enthusiasm in check. It is exceedingly easy to over-exert. Twenty to thirty minutes is the time limit for the best physical results.

"5—Swimming pools, of necessity, are warm places. Therefore, do not rush out into the cold outside air when in an over-heated condition. The cool or the cold shower, depending upon your taste and resistance, following the dip is absolutely essential.

"6—Never invade a pool if you are suffering from a cold or a catarrhal infection. Blowing the nose and freeing the head of water makes it possible for the healthy fellow to become infected by direct contact."

Motorists Will Drive To Washington Game In Caravan Enmasse

Saturday morning at 9:30 the New Castle Pigskin Caravan will be assembled on North Jefferson street, by the public square, according to the announcement of Bernard Hanlon of the New Castle Motor Club, who is in charge of the caravan. All those motorists who are driving to Washington, Pa., to witness the New Castle-Washington football game are asked to join the pigskin caravan.

Two state troopers will be in charge of the caravan and will lead the procession of cars. Each car, states Mr. Hanlon, will be numbered and these numbers will identify the caravan.

Not only this will be done, but the route will be marked in such a manner by an advance guard that the New Castle drivers who cannot leave with the caravan will have no difficulty in finding a blazed trail to the scene of the gridiron at Washington. The entire route will be blazed with stickers and signs to help the later motorists who will have no time to loiter if they wish to make the game on time.

The caravan will be assembled and numbered on North Jefferson street at the public square, number given out and the start made at 9:30. Motorists are asked to be there early so that the procession can move along as quickly as possible.

All football enthusiasts and backers of New Castle are asked to travel with the caravan. It will mean that all of the New Castle rooters will be able to drive through the town of the rivals.

Pottery Workers' Officials Here

Present Result Of Conference To Members Of Union Last Night

PRESIDENT DUFFY MAKES STATEMENT

After a meeting that lasted until past midnight, and hearing the reports of the members of the executive board of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, some 150 members of local 54, potters of the Shenango Pottery company, decided to ratify the action of the executive board in its meeting with James M. Smith, president of the Shenango Pottery company, held in East Liverpool, O., Monday afternoon, October 22. That action was a refusal to accede to the proposal of Mr. Smith and as a result all union employes of the Shenango Pottery company will be called out on strike. This was the statement of James M. Duffy, national president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, who presided at the meeting of local 54.

"We cannot agree to the position taken by Mr. Smith," said National President Duffy. "For about three months this question has been before us and we have endeavored to arrive at an amicable settlement. As Mr. Smith has said, the trouble arose over the method of loading the buggies that carry the ware through the tunnel kiln.

"It is true that union kiln placers were used in the loading of buggies, but the last piling of ware, that which was put on just before the buggy started through the tunnel kiln, was placed by a laborer, not a union man. Five union kiln placers were used in this job and they would load about 18 buggies a day. The amount of ware that could be placed on just before the buggy went through amounts to considerable and in a day's time it meant a job for one union man.

"There have been innovations in the pottery business before: for instance, when we changed from pressing to casting the ware. In all innovations it has been the custom for the standing committee of the manufacturers and the union to get together and decide what would be the custom in the new work, and usually it has been that the men who did the work in the old days were recognized under the new system.

"Tunnel kilns are new in the pottery business, but not entirely new. There are five other kilns of such type in operation, three in Newell, W. Va., one in Chester, W. Va., one in Sebring, O., and one to be put into operation in Beaver Falls, Pa. At none of these places has there been any trouble, the manufacturer agreeing that the union kiln placers should load the ware and this is being done.

"As a final attempt to adjudicate this matter, the executive board of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters was called together at East Liverpool, O., Monday afternoon and met with President James M. Smith and other representatives of the Shenango Pottery. Both sides presented their arguments but the result of the conference was failure. It is an unfortunate situation, but we believe that we are justified in our position and we can do nothing but stand by our position in the matter."

The ten crafts of the union potters employed in the Shenango Pottery were present at the meeting Monday evening. In addition to National President James M. Duffy of East Liverpool, O., the following national officers were present: George H. Cartilage, first vice president of Trenton, N. J.; George Chadwick, second vice president of East Liverpool, O.; William Davidson, third vice president of Trenton, N. J.; Louis Dreiber, fourth vice president of Trenton, N. J.; T. M. Woods, sixth vice president of Sebring, O.; James Slevin, seventh vice president of East Liverpool, O.; John McGilvray, national secretary of East Liverpool, O.; Frank Hull, national representative, of East Liverpool, O.

Tarzano Insane, Is Taken To Dixmont

Charles Tarzano who has been adjudged insane by a commission was taken to Dixmont asylum this morning by Sheriff H. M. Reynolds, Policeman Criswell and S. J. Chambers. Tarzano was committed to the Allegheny county workhouse for one year on a booze charge. He had served about eight months when the workhouse authorities notified the sheriff that he had gone insane and asked that he be removed. He was brought here to jail in order that a commission might be appointed to pass upon his case. Tarzano appears to have gone insane over religion.

Hope To Allay Suspicions In Naval Accord

Britain And France Hope To Lower Suspicions Regarding Naval Post

NEXT STEP LEFT TO UNITED STATES

"Books Of Revelation" Fail To Reveal Any New Information

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Belief was expressed in official quarters today that the British "white paper" and the French "blue book", containing the Anglo-French naval agreement and all correspondence relating thereto would allay fears, notable existent in the United States and Italy that the two powers had entered into a secret diplomatic part such as menaced the world's peace before the great war.

British newspapers, in commenting upon the two sets of papers, pointed out that they contained very little if anything not previously known. Some newspapers maintained that the British and French governments were responsible for the suspicions because of their delay in making the Anglo-French diplomatic correspondence public.

The two "books of revelation" brought the situation down to the American note stating that the Anglo-French proposals were not satisfactory as the basis for future international disarmament negotiations.

Apparently, the British government believes that the next step in disarmament work is up to the United States. It was indicated that Britain and France now look to the United States to make counter proposals or at least suggestions as to the basis upon which further naval limitation negotiations should be taken up.

Why not just admit that all murderers are crazy and lock them up for life without the formality of a trial?

CHEST CAMPAIGN IS LIMITED TO TWO FULL DAYS

will be required to do will be light. It is possible, under the plans for the solicitation, easily to cover the entire city in the time set aside for that purpose. This includes the necessary second calls where residents will not be at home on the first visit.

Limiting the campaign to a two-day drive does not mean that the work will be slighted. If any residents of the city are not seen in that time there will be time during the remaining days of the week to see them and secure their pledges. But with a limit put on the time and with a definite goal set to accomplish the teams will go in to the field full of enthusiasm and do this year's job quickly.

Meet In Cathedral

The team meetings will be held at the Cathedral in the east dining room. Here is ample space for the serving of the meals and for team meetings, and is centrally located.

Captains are now reporting their teams to headquarters and the soliciting organization will be complete within a few days. A meeting for instructions and assignment of territory will be held Friday, October 26, at the Cathedral. Dinner will be served at 6:30. This is an important meeting as working kits will be assigned and complete instructions given. This year a sales manual has been prepared for the workers, covering all points of the campaign and the workers by studying this manual will be able to answer any question given them.

ing the pit mouth. Police authorities have instigated an investigation.

Despite the fact that the mine had never been so equipped when it was in operation years ago, two electric wires were found leading to the pit.

Chief of Police Jack Thomas declared he has no authority to head an investigation. Hundreds of "treasure seekers," have visited the mine since the report of the hidden loot was broadcast but no attempt has been made to gain entrance into the pit.

Pennington Is Called Before Graft Probers

District Attorney Gardner Summons Pennington And His Aide Today

MOVE IMPORTANT OFFICIALS CLAIM

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 23.—The United States government stepped into the graft probe limelight today after District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner summoned Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington and his aide, Joseph A. Frayne, to appear before the grand jury as witnesses.

"Big timers"—men whom District Attorney Gardner believes have sat behind beautiful mahogany desks and raked in money from Pittsburgh's alleged gambling syndicates and graft schemes—remembered the 167 indictments handed down in the recent federal grand jury liquor probe and trembled over the probable information of Pittsburgh vice, graft and corruption the prohibition administrator gained in his sweeping investigation last spring.

Garner's conference with Pennington and Frayne was scheduled as only a short session since Pennington, who has been out of town, leaves again tonight.

This short session, however, was considered as an ultra-important move on the part of Gardner and his assistants. The prosecution considered the move important since it opens up new lanes of investigation—probably concerning the distribution of liquor privileges here.

The defense considered the move important in view of the wealth of material gained in the federal probe and the 167 indictments.

TWO BIGGEST AIRSHIPS MAY TAKE TO AIR AT SAME TIME THURSDAY

on the stub mast some time between midnight and dawn, preparatory to a takeoff at daybreak.

Although the Graf Zeppelin is expected to be ready for a take off late tonight, officers of the ship and naval officers here announced that the air liner will not start on her midwest flight before Thursday morning. Commander Wiley, therefore, indicated the possibility of the Graf Zeppelin and the Los Angeles taking off the same morning.

The navy dirigible, however, will not accompany the German airship, but will merely undertake a training flight, which one of the two airships will soar into the skies first, commander Wiley would not say. He said the Graf Zeppelin will take off immediately after leaving the hangar, while the Los Angeles will do so from the stub mast. Both ships, he pointed out, can take off within a few minutes.

Zeppelin Overhauled

Meanwhile, station personnel and members of the German crew are putting the finishing touches on the Graf Zeppelin. The ship has now sufficient fuel for her 36-hour cruise to the Middle West. Her hydrogen cells are being replenished today. Two huge free balloons, containing 80,00 cubic feet of gas, were pulled into the hangar this morning. They were placed under the Graf Zeppelin's stern and their contents deflated and "poured" into the airship's cells. An additional supply of hydrogen is being transferred from the station's power plant to the Graf Zeppelin. Lieutenant Commanded Z. W. Wicks, assembly and repair officer, and Lieutenant Ralph H. Smith, engineer officer, are supervising this operation.

Commander Wicks expects his men to complete repairs on the port horizontal fin late this afternoon. The top covering was finished yesterday and all the bottom covering needs yet is two coats of "dope". It took a crew of 12 men seven working days to repair the fin.

Two hundred and thirty-six yards of fabric and 200 gallons of "dope" were used for the job.

Dr. Eckener, Captains Ernst Lehmann and Carl Von Schiller are expected to return to Lakehurst late tonight. They will make a thorough inspection of the Graf Zeppelin tomorrow and give final instructions for the ship's mid-western flight.

FIVE MEN DIE AS FIRE RAZES CHICAGO HOTEL

managed to creep to the iron ladder where firemen got me."

Accustomed To Noise

Firemen explained that most of the men are accustomed to noise and interruptions in their sleep and hence failed to wake when flames first attacked the building.

But for Starkey's efforts to rouse the inmates of the building police believe that many others would have been killed by the fiery blast. He was taken to a hospital in a serious condition, his lungs having absorbed too much smoke.

Four of the dead were burned almost beyond recognition. The fifth victim was taken to the county morgue and the others removed to nearby hospitals.

Firemen, after fighting the blaze for an hour, found only one body but men of the fire insurance patrol uncovered the others. The dead, it is believed, were caught when the roof fell in the rear of the hotel.

Mystery Deposits Are Under Fire

District Attorney Monaghan Seeks To Identify Alleged Millions In Graft

BANK OFFICIALS GIVEN GRILLING

Reveal Ten Million Deposited In Philadelphia Bank In Two Years

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—Positive the $10,000,000 "inter-weaving" bank accounts deposited in the Union Bank and Trust company here between 1926 and 1928 by men under fictitious names was "racket" money, District Attorney John Monaghan set about the task today of finding the true names of the depositors.

The depositors, some of whom had accounts of more than a million dollars, shifted their deposits in such a fashion to indicate alliance between them. Finally the money was removed entirely in the early part of 1928. The depositors numbered 15 and all gave fictitious addresses.

Revelations of the huge mysterious deposits were made last night by Monaghan after Joseph S. McCulloch, president of the bank, and director of public safety had been questioned by the special grand jury investigating racketeers. McCulloch insisted he didn't even know his clients with the million dollar bank accounts. Monaghan intimated he didn't believe such huge deposits could be made in modern banking institutions without someone in authority knowing something about the depositors.

The same bank held deposits of the Quaker Industrial Alcohol company, the distillery which was brought under scrutiny when charges were made that thousands of gallons of alcohol had been diverted from it into bootleg channels.

Washington Plans Fine Reception For New Castle

Air To Reciprocate For Treatment Here On Last Thanksgiving Day

Washington, Pa., high school authorities and students are making arrangements for a fine reception to the visiting delegation from New Castle, on Saturday, when the two schools play football at Washington, according to reports brought back by a New Castle business man, who chanced to be in that city this week, and attended a meeting of business men.

While in the meeting, the head of the schools appeared and made a brief address, asking for co-operation of the townspeople in giving the New Castle delegation and team the right kind of hospitality on Saturday.

He mentioned that when the Washington delegation was in New Castle on last Thanksgiving day, that a wonderful spirit was shown, and the Washington visitors were accorded every courtesy. Washington wants to return that courtesy on Saturday, he said.

He said that there would be no banners strung about the city, used on cars, or in other ways, shouting "Beat New Castle," and urged that every citizen of Washington make it a particular point to aid in the display of courtesy towards the visitors.

So, New Castle citizens and students who accompany the high school eleven to Little Washington on Saturday are assured of a most pleasing reception, it is certain.

Such plans as being made by Washington folks cannot fail to arouse good feeling and aid in continued relations between the schools of a most enjoyable nature.

Breaks Hydrant

Roy McDaniel, Ellwood City, R. D No. 2, reported today that he was driving into the Neshannock creek from North street, to unload materials for the new bridge at that point. Some men called for him to go across the river, but he backed up instead and ran into and broke off the fire hydrant at North street and Neshannock avenue.

Orville Drake 320 Garfield avenue reported Monday that he was driving north on Mill street at Sycamore Way, when his machine collided with a car bearing Pennsylvania license 678-980, which was going north. Some damage was done.

Simon Kosma, 421 Reynolds street reported Monday that he was driving north on Moravia street at the viaduct, when a car bearing Pennsylvania License 356-494 going the same way, ran into and damaged his car.

R. E. Salmon, 408 Norwood avenue reported Monday that he was driving north on North Mill street at Sycamore Way, and had stopped to let people get off the street car, when a Citizen's Lumber Company truck which was following his machine, ran into the rear of his car, doing some damage.

Students Open Courtesy Drive At Washington

That Concerning Athletics Is Being Stressed Most

CAMPAIGN WILL RUN THROUGHOUT WEEK

"Courtesy," particularly as it relates to athletics, is to be the pass word for all pupils at the George Washington junior high school during the present week, according to an announcement by Donald Copson, supervisor of extra-curricular activities at the school.

The campaign to stress this important matter and to bring it to the attention of every pupil enrolled at Washington opened this morning when bulletins concerning the subject of courtesy were placed in the hands of every teacher there. These bulletins contain suggestions for discussions of courtesy at the home room periods on Thursday morning, October 25.

"It is not that we consider our pupils especially lacking in this essential to true culture," said Mr. Copson, in explaining the campaign, "but simply to impress upon their youthful minds this extremely important, but often neglected, phase of education that the week has been formally dedicated by the principal, B. K. Thacker, to the proposition that the school establish traditions in athletics that shall be of the best."

Posters have been placed throughout the building so that pupils may be constantly reminded of courtesy throughout the week. To further stimulate interest special recognition will be given the George Washington pupil and the home room to which he belongs, who shall work out the best courtesy slogan of not more than ten words to be followed by the school during the remainder of the year.

The campaign opened this morning and will function until the evening of Friday, October 26.

BODY OF FLIER DENIED WIDOW

Brother Buries Air Mail Pilot Over Protests Of Victim's Estranged Spouse

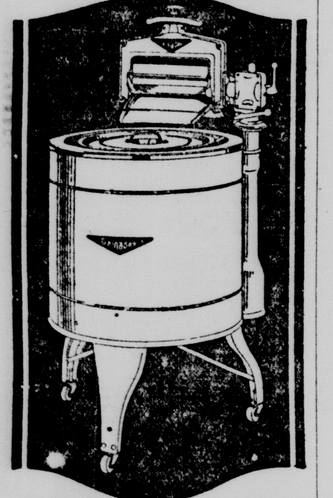

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Oct. 23.—The body of William G. Hopson, air mail pilot who was killed near Franklin, Pa., last Thursday, was buried here Monday under the direction of a brother, O. L. Hopson.

The widow, a resident of Omaha, who has been estranged from the pilot for a number of years, made an unsuccessful attempt through an attorney to have the body shipped to that city, where she had planned cremation of the body and the scattering of the ashes from an airplane.

A form filed by the pilot when he entered the service of the National Air Transport directed that O. L. Hopson be notified in case of injury or death. Hopson today indicated he was prepared to resist any attempt to remove the body from its resting place.

Is This Good Americanism?

Get the Facts—Learn the Truth

TREASONABLE LIES

PATRIOTIC TRUTHS

The Constitution of the United States Says:

"No religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States."

(Article VI.)

Lincoln said: "As a nation we began by declaring that 'all men are created equal'. . .When the Know-Nothings get control it will read: 'all men are created equal, except Negroes, and foreigners, and Catholics.' When it comes to this, I should prefer emigrating to some country where they make no pretense of loving liberty."

(Letter to Joshua F. Speed.)

Roosevelt said: "Any political movements directed against any body of our fellow citizens because of their religious creed is a grave offense against American principles and American institutions. It is a wicked thing either to support or to oppose a man because of the creed he professes. This applies to Jew and Gentile, to Catholic and Protestant, and to the men who would be regarded as unorthodox by all of them alike." (Interview in New York Herald, Oct. 13, 1915.)

Wm. Jennings Bryan said: "Those who have come into intimate acquaintance with representative Catholics did not need to be informed that they do not concede to the Church authorities the right to direct their course in political matters, but many Protestants, lacking this knowledge which comes with personal acquaintance, have been misled."

Many sections of our country, particularly where there are few Catholics, are being flooded with millions and millions of pieces of literature of the type exhibited here.

The growing momentum of these outbursts of intolerance has brought about a crisis gravely endangering the unity, the peace, the prosperity of the Nation.

This has placed a duty upon all high-minded Americans which far transcends any political issue of the moment. In instant response a group of distinguished men of all faiths and political parties have written to The Calvert Associates [a society named after the founder of Maryland—the first Colony to write full religious liberty into its charter] protesting against this wave of intolerance and assuring their support of our effort to meet bigotry and intolerance with the plain truth.

Club Members Vote Favorably On Addition Of Nine Golf Holes

Golf Champion Cups Are Presented To Robert Thompson And Carl McLaren

Secretary Moyer Is Presented With Set Of Handsome Registered Clubs

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 28.—The annual meeting of the Ellwood City Country Club took place Monday evening at the clubhouse with about 200 members present.

The meeting opened with a fish fry at seven o'clock, after which the regular order of business was dispensed.

The principal action taken was the decision of the membership to add nine more holes to the golf course, making 18 holes in all. An option had already been taken on the Jackson property at $200 per acre, with 90 acres in the tract, payments for same running into 1931. The members were in favor of the addition, providing that the dues would not be increased.

"Dutch" Loeffler of Oakmont, who has had considerable experience in laying out golf courses, will have charge of the local enlargement. The members felt that the growth of the club in the next four years would justify the expense of enlarging the course at this time.

Another feature of the meeting last night was the presentation of the club championship cup, won by Robert Thompson October 4, and the president's cup, won previously, to the winner. Mr. Thompson spoke a few words of thanks. The challenge cup and the F. E. Moore cup were presented to Carl McLaren, who won them in August and September, respectively.

George Moyer, who has been the faithful secretary for the club for over a score of years, was at last rewarded Monday evening with a handsome set of registered golf clubs. The presentation speech was made by F. E. Moore, who lauded Mr. Moyer for his continued survival of the hard knocks which are the lot of any organization secretary.

John Powell, chairman of the greens committee, made his report and praised Fred Loeffler, who has had charge of the links during the past summer and is also the club professional.

Dr. Carl Hayes of the house committee gave a detailed account of the expenditures during the past year.

William Seaton, chairman of the entertainment committee, had an interesting report to make.

Charles Adams, chairman of the membership committee, reported 18 new members, two associate, 15 men and one woman in the active. The total number of members of 302, with over 200 of these playing golf, hence the decision for the additional nine holes.

Inter-club matches were reported, with one victory over Ambridge, one loss to Greenville and a split score with New Kensington.

Members of the finance committee gave a detailed report and revealed the fact that the finances of the club were in a very favorable state. While a great deal of money was spent on maintaining the clubhouse and course, there is still a nice balance on the books.

In the report given by John Powell thanks was tendered to B. J. Bell for his donation of tar for the driveway from the main road to the clubhouse.

Members decided to have nine members on the board of directors, with three new ones added each year to succeed three retiring ones. Those elected last night were: John Powell, R. C. Stiefel and Dr. H. B. Anderson for two years; for one year, Jesse Hunter and William Seaton.

Never An Iron On My Hair

Wherever my theatrical engagements happen to take me I could have a marcel, but I never do. I prefer my own method—waving my hair with my Wave and Sheen.

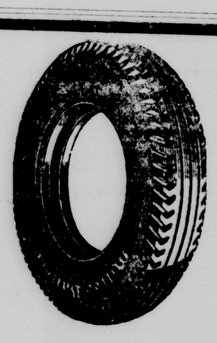

Edna Wallace Hopper

I always keep my hair clean by shampooing once a week. I apply Wave and Sheen with a comb. You can use a brush, or just your hands.

I dampen the hair with it—insert combs in the direction I wish the waves, tie a veil over my hair and keep it on for about an hour. Some types of hair require more time, some less.

The result is a soft, lovely, undulating wave. Most people in my audiences think I have it marceled. Many ask whether it is a natural wave. It is not.

You can have this same sheen no matter what method you use to wave your hair. Get a bottle at any toilet counter for 75 cents. One trial will convince you as it has thousands of others.

Bride of Death

In her honeydew chemise and her luxurious dressing gown, pretty Ethel Blum, 23, and an artist, was found dead in her bijou Brooklyn apartment—the bride of death instead of handsome Jimmy La Magna, the man she loved. Lack of money and objection of fiance's family to her religion were given as reason in a note left behind her.

Mrs. John Dunn, Jr. Entertains Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 23.—Members of the Fortnight club enjoyed Monday evening as the guests of Mrs. John Dunn, Jr., of Second street.

Two tables of bridge were in play and Mrs. Theodore Knauff was a special guest. At the conclusion of a pleasant interval of play Mrs. Clifton Jones was awarded high score honors.

Later delicious refreshments were served with Hallowe'en motifs used in decoration.

KNOXVILLE SEXTET

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Oct. 23.—The colored Knoxville Sextet will give a concert of spiritual and sacred songs at the Wurtemburg U. P. church this evening at 8 p. m.

The concert will be followed by an address by a mountain missionary, who, with the aid of stereoptican views, will illustrate the work carried on in the Southern Mountains.

PRAYER MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 23.—The weekly prayer service of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church Wednesday evening takes place at the home of William Houk of the New Castle road.

Surprises Husband On His Birthday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 23.—Mrs. John Robertson of the North Side entertained at bridge Monday evening in honor of her husband's birthday anniversary. There were five tables of bridge in play and the guests were members of the J. U. club.

At the conclusion of a pleasant evening Mrs. Barkley and Mr. Murphy were awarded the score honors. Later delicious refreshments made their appearance concluding a most successful evening.

Special guests were club members husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Barkley, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson. In two weeks Mrs. McDonald of the Pittsburgh Circle will entertain.

Mrs. Howell Jenkins Entertains Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Howell Jenkins of Ewing Park entertained the members of the Young Matrons club Monday evening at her home.

Old fashioned garden flowers made a pretty decoration. Mrs. William Bayers was a special guest and there were two tables in play.

At the close of a pleasant series of games Mrs. Berwick Barton received the club trophy and Mrs. Bayers a guest gift.

Later the hostess assisted by Mrs. B. G. Bell served a delicious Hallowe'en menu. In two weeks Mrs. Henry Schenck of Spring avenue will entertain.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

Officers from the grand knight down will be installed into active service at this time. Those being installed commenced their one-year term on October 1.

District Deputy John J. Murrin of Butler will come here to conduct the installation.

School Contest Dates Announced

Beaver Valley Inter-Scholastic Contests Open December 7th

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 23.—An essay contest will open the annual Beaver Valley inter-scholastic contests here Friday December 7. The subjects have not as yet been announced.

Next on the schedule is the declamation contest December 14 at Rochester. Last year Miss Margaret Leibendorfer of the local school took third place. On Friday January 11 the extemporaneous contest takes place in New Brighton. Ellwood City is in group A this year. Other schools in group A are Ambridge, Rochester, New Brighton and Freedom. While Ellwood did not place first last year in the contests various pupils are being groomed for this year's series in hopes of securing a higher rating.

Golf Formalities Reversed At Club On Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 23.—Instead of the caddies strutting their regular stuff at the Country club Saturday they were the principal figures in a golf match for a caddies trophy and the members of the club acted as their active caddies.

The match was a most interesting one and revealed the fact that the observing youngsters could really play. Toney Moreno emerged triumphant with the lowest score 71. He received a handsome trophy.

Later a real feed was given the boys after which stunts and entertainment were provided.

LOCAL RED CROSS GIVES ASSISTANCE TO DISABLED VETS

Seeks To Aid World War Veterans In Many Ways

Service that is rendered by the Red Cross chapter of Lawrence county to the many disabled war veterans in this district, was the theme of Pat J. Dempsey's discussion in a brief interview this morning.

The executive secretary of the chapter told of the many ways in which the organization can be of assistance and the different forms of service that can be rendered either the disabled veteran, his family, or perhaps both.

In outlining the service, Mr. Dempsey said that in addition to assisting disabled men and their families the Red Cross is the most fully equipped organization in operation to assist men in all matters that must necessarily be taken up with the federal government or other agencies. "The matter of securing service adjusted compensation," said Dempsey, "or that which is so-called 'bonus,' is just one of the services. Several questions arise concerning war risk insurance and the conversion of the same; the filing of claims for compensation, for which the last congress extended the time up until April 6, 1930, and other matters, and the Red Cross is of service in each case.

"Application can be made for adjusted service compensation, or the so-called bonus, up until January 2, 1930. Matters pertaining to the emergency officers' retiring bill, passed by the last congress, and which provides hospitalization for all veterans, whether or not their disability was due to their war service or not, are also discussed.

"These and a thousand other services, that directly affect the soldiers," concluded the Red Cross official, "are the great concerns of our organization."

Butler Mystery Is Somewhat Like One At Ellwood City

Authorities Trying To Solve Finding Of Bones Of Woman In Burned House

Butler county has a mystery somewhat similar to that at Ellwood City several years ago when a boy was believed to have been burned in a shack which had been destroyed by fire. In the Butler case an old deserted log house was burned, and what is believed to be the charred bones of a woman was found, also a wrist watch and a wedding ring.

The house had not been occupied for the past two years. It is in an isolated spot. Last Friday night neighbors were attracted by flames and the building was burned to the ground. Later the bones were found. Coroner Pohl feels sure that the bones are those of a woman. Authorities believe that the body was saturated with oil and then set on fire. The peculiar feature of the case is that so far no woman has been found missing from the neighborhood, which gives rise to the belief that the body might have been brought from a distance.

Yet some people think they are tolerant because they haven't character enough to form a conviction.

Cathedral Will Present "The Desert Song" Afternoon And Evening

With a cast of over 100 glorious voices, "The Desert Song," a show which tells the colorful story of the recent rebellion among the Riff tribes in Northern Africa, will be shown at The Cathedral auditorium Wednesday afternoon and evening, declares Herbert Peairs, manager of the auditorium.

Throughout the east, the company which will present "The Desert Song" in New Castle has been acclaimed as one of the finest ever to be on the road. And the show itself has won approval all over the globe. It played for more than a year and a half in New York City, for fourteen months in London, nine months in Chicago, and entire seasons in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Boston and Detroit. It is also scheduled for production in Paris, Berlin, Vienna and Australia.

Sigmund Romberg, the composer of "The Desert Song," is probably America's best known and most successful writer of operettas. Born and educated in Vienna, he came to New York about 15 years ago, where he is identified with some of the finest stage productions. He has added to his credit such musical triumphs as "Blossom Time," "My Maryland" and "The Student Prince", all of which are familiar to the people of New Castle.

FIRPO WINS DECISION OVER SAYLOR

Blood-Thirsty Fans Lust Is Appeased

Saylor Substitutes For Katkish And Captures First Four Rounds; Boxing Commission Deputy Refuses To Allow Bout To Terminate By Alleged Foul. Firpo Comes Back In Last Part And Scores Knockdown In Tenth; Goodman Stops McFarland; Elmo Kayoes Page; Dugan-Bollender Draw; O'Leary Defeats Itovino.

By ED. FRITZ

Bill Jolly, the enterprisin' fistic impressario of Wooden Saucer fame, last night served a delicious pugilistic menu to the blood-thirsty. Knockdowns, knockouts, blood and excitement featured the 'evening's evenin' and in the main bout of ten rounds the decision was given to Henry Firpo of Louisville over Young Saylor of Charleroi, who substituted for Jack Katkish.

According to the impressario and the boxing commission, the Croatian was ambulanced into a hospital suffering with a pair of bealed ears late Sunday night and Young Saylor who had boxed Mickey Fedore here was substituted and to be frank about it not one fan in the 2,000 felt sorry over the substitution as the boxing bout was a fight from bell to bell.

In fact every bout on the pugilistic calendar was a rip-snortin' affair. In the first bout knockdowns came fast and in the second battle a hook sent one of the warriors flying half way through the ropes.

Difference of Opinion.

The last bout or main bout between Saylor and Firpo proved a sensational fight, with rivalry keen, not only between the combatants but the spectators and after the two judges had split on the verdict the referee's vote decided the fight and a portion of the fans, or those who had pulled for Saylor, did not take kindly to the verdict, while Firpo's friends were elated.

Round one found the fighters snapping into their work and their styles were tipped off with their first efforts. Firpo tried a long left and right cross while Saylor devoted all his efforts to lifting a left hook to the stomach and chin. They fought fast and furiously and though the round was close the Charleroi boy deserved it by a shade. Saylor took the next three sessions but in the fifth he coursed into trouble.

Has Saylor Groggy.

Instead of being content to hold Saylor off with a left Firpo assumed an aggressiveness he had not previously displayed and staggered Saylor with rights to the jaw that had him groggy and primed for a knockout. Saylor clinched, held on and retreated as best he could and Firpo was too slow to follow up his advantage and while he handed out a merry drubbing he did not drop Saylor, who partially recuperated a few seconds before the bell.

In the sixth session Saylor was weak from the drubbing in the fifth and he fought cautiously and used his brain as he realized he could not stand up before the vicious Louisville boy. He took a beating around the head and body and held whenever possible. In the seventh Firpo drove him around the ring with lashing right and left to the body, but Saylor occasionally sent a left hook to the body and head but a right to the jaw hurt Saylor badly.

Blow Not Called Foul.

About 40 seconds before the end of the round Firpo landed a punch slightly below the belt line but not on the groin. It was not a blow that would put Saylor down and out and he did not go down. Referee Chip called a foul and sent the Louisville lad to his corner while Saylor leaned on the ropes. The boxing commission deputy, Mike Kane, leaped into the ring and the bowl physician, Dr. Seal, examined Saylor and said he had not been fouled. Kane ordered Saylor to resume fighting. He had had the rest he wanted and sailed into Firpo but it was the Louisville boy's round.

Firpo went after Saylor again in the eighth and drove Saylor before him. Saylor made Firpo miss many lashes but in the main he lost the session and in the ninth they stood toe to toe and ripped blows to stomach and head.

Saylor Goes Down.

In the infighting Firpo had the best of the fighting as Saylor's punches lacked steam and Firpo was the stronger of the two and in the tenth the two furnished enough excitement to satisfy anyone as they met headlong and neither broke ground during the first part of the session. This was what Firpo wanted and one of his rights hit Saylor on the chin and he went down to his haunches like a ton of bricks but got up without a count. Firpo lost another opportunity here for a knockout as while he was turning to go to his corner at the knockdown Saylor leaped up.

Throws Rock at Firpo.

They went into a clinch and Firpo pounded his stomach then uppercut with his right. Saylor sent several lefts to Firpo's chin and they were fighting like two fiends when the last bell ended the fight. The two judges split, one calling the bout a draw, the other giving the fight to Firpo and according to the rules the decision of the referee was read and it was in favor of Firpo. The decision was cheered and booed. The fans who have razzed Firpo for some time hung around the ring and one threw a rock at him. However, the fighter merely looked the fan in the face as he sped through a door to escape. Friends took charge of Firpo and escorted him to his dressingroom and the fans left the bowl.

Goodman Stops McFarland

It took Johnny Datto eight rounds to flatten Jack McFarland here but Joey Goodman, the Hebrew of Norfolk, Va., flattened Jack in two frames. The first round was fairly even but in the second Goodman floored Jack with a right to the jaw. Jack got up without a count and stood punch-drunk. Goodman viciously assaulted him on the ropes. He sagged down and when he got up

Interclass Athletic Events Prove Feature At Ben Franklin High

Leroi M. Norton, physical education director at Ben Franklin junior high school, is busily engaged in mapping out a program of interclass events. It is the aim of Norton to have at least 80 per cent of the enrollment of the school interested in some form of athletics.

The boys' interclass basketball league will open at Franklin high on November 19. Thirty class teams are entered in the league. It is estimated that approximately 200 boys will take part in class basketball games this season. There will be three divisions as follows: seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

Basketball is Popular.

Basketball is a favorite pastime with the students of Franklin high as evidenced by the fact that the school gym floor is in use the greater part of the time, and especially on Saturday mornings.

A seventh grade sectional volley ball league is being arranged by Norton and will start about December 3. Tumbling has always been a popular sport at Franklin high and is on a high par; this activity will attract boys from all grades.

The boys diving club for seventh and eighth graders is instructive and quite popular among the youngsters. The diving club meets twice a month.

The Franklin athletic program is developed to meet the need of every boy. Seventy per cent of the entire enrollment took part in some interclass activity last year. It is hoped that the number will be increased this year to include about 80 per cent of the entire enrollment and possibly higher.

Norton is a very capable instructor and is well liked by the students. His various programs of activity have always held a high place at the junior high school.

Yale And Army Games Features This Saturday

Yale And Army Both Undefeated And Seeking Eastern Grid Title

BOTH TEAMS HAVE HEALTHY PROGRAMS

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The schedule makers who carded the Yale-Army game for October 27 should be confined in the cell occupied by the playwright who insisted upon inserting his big fight scene in the second act, for here is an attraction, ranking as it does as the high light of the Eastern football program for 1928, that would have been unsurpassed as the season's climax. Matching these two Eastern bellwethers at the half way mark is like pitting Walter Hagen against Johnny Farrell in the second round.

Turn Of Road

The contest will mark the turn of the road for both teams. The loser will be automatically eliminated from the race for the mythical Eastern title; the winner will be able to face other tough opponents with renewed confidence.

Win or lose, a rocky road stretches ahead for both elevens. Dartmouth, Princeton and Harvard are additional obstacles in Yale's path, and Army's subsequent opponents include Notre Dame, Nebraska and Stanford. Yale, no doubt, would rather lose to Army than to Harvard or Princeton. But Army, seeking revenge for its 10 to 6 defeat by Yale last year, considers a victory over the Elis as a main objective.

This titanic scrap will be the only contest next Saturday in which two unbeaten or untied Eastern leaders will clash. Princeton, which proved that its tie with Virginia was all a mistake by slaughtering Lehigh last week, will get a chance to prove the sincerity of its reformation when Cornell invades the lair of the Tiger. Cornell has been unimpressive against set-ups and does not figure to win on Saturday, but any outfit tutored by Grieving Gilmour Dobie is always dangerous.

Colgate Undefeated

Colgate, which lost to Vanderbilt but is still undefeated in Eastern competition, will test the strength of New York University. Syracuse, also still in the running for Eastern honors, should defeat the much-battered Penn State outfit.

Other contests scheduled for this week will make Saturday's card the best yet offered this season. Dartmouth, Penn and Carnegie Tech, ranked with Army, Yale and New York University in the first flight of the Eastern teams, face worthy opposition. Dartmouth will turn Al Marsters and Co. loose against Harvard. Penn will take on the apparently rejuvenated Navy eleven and Carnegie Tech will do or die against Pittsburgh, its traditional rival.

Georgetown, the high scoring outfit of the country, will find in Duke somewhat tougher meat than the minor leaguers who have yielded 205 ponts to the Hilltoppers in four games. There will be plenty of excitement but probably not much of a contest in Boston when Boston College, another undefeated and untied Eastern leader, tears into Boston University, its ancient and weaker rival.

Other notable contests in the East will be the Lafayette-West Virginia, Fordham-Washington and Jefferson and Marquette-Holy Cross games.

Washington High Test For Locals

Coach Bridenbaugh Drills New Castle For Toughest Opponent

RESUME PRACTICE SESSIONS TODAY

By "BUGS" WALTHER

New Castle High school football team faces the toughest foe on their 1928 card Saturday at Washington, Pa., when they stack up against the strong Washington High grid team.

The locals had a brief respite from strenuous training yesterday, but Coach Bridenbaugh has given orders that all boys are to report today for intensive workout.

The Washington game looks like the banner conflict on the schedule. The Hank Day outfit is undefeated to date and are rated as strong contenders for the W. P. I. A. L. title. New Castle holds the same position, and therefore the game Saturday means a lot to both schoolboy teams.

New Castle defeated Washington last year by a score of 39 to 6, and consequently the Washington team is anxious to atone for that setback.

Coach Bridenbaugh hopes to have his strongest team on the field against the "Little Presidents". All of the cripples have recovered and precaution will be taken this week to insure against injuries in practice.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is busy arranging for the special train to Washington over the Pennsylvania railroad on Saturday. The train will leave New Castle about 10 o'clock and arrive in Washington about 12:30 o'clock.

Westminster Gets Ready For Thiel

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 23.—Despite the fact that Coach "Dike" Beede's Westminster College gridders lost to Grove City on Saturday there is considerable enthusiasm among Blue and White followers in that the United Presbyterians played as good a game as has been seen in a number of years.

Westminster made exactly the same number of first downs as the Grovers and gained many more yards during the game but lacked the punch as the crucial moments to tally a score. For a little more than half of the game, the Titans held the ball in their possession in Grover territory.

These things were taken into consideration, the outlook for next Saturday's homecoming game with Thiel is somewhat brighter. While the Lutherans are conceded to be one of the strongest teams in the district, Westminster will have an even chance with them since many of the regulars were used up in the Geneva fracas. It is known that Geneva caught Holleran's lads on a day when his stars were on the sidelines, so Saturday's game at New Wilmington will depend upon how these Thiel players improve this week.

Last year's Coach Beede's team traveled to Greeenville and completely upset the dope by handing the Lutherans a 25-12 setback. Thiel will be out to avenge this defeat on Saturday, but the Westminster team, with much more confidence in themselves after the showing made against Grove City, will be out to chalk up the initial win of the season.

Coach Holleran of Thiel has one of the outstanding backs of the district in Captain Stan Berkman. If this triple threat quarter is in Saturday's game, he will have to be guarded closely. Judging by the play of the Thiel crew in its first four games, a good defense against the forward passing attack will stop them. Whether Beede can develop such a defense in five days remains to be seen.

In all probability, a complete set of new plays will be used against the Thiel crew. Starting yesterday the Blue and White players, with the exception of Forsha, Lauder, Dible, Sweet, and Fuller, all injured in the rough scrimmage at Grove City, have been pointing to Saturday's Thiel game with determination.

As a preface to the Thiel-Westminster grid game, the cross country teams of the two schools will race over the Fayette five and one-half mile course. This is a tri-state conference meet and should show what chances the United Presbyterians have for another championship.

Steel Chief Is Out For Hoover

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 23.—President James A. Campbell of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, yesterday came out in a statement supporting the candidacy of Herbert Hoover for president. Campbell said the country would be more prosperous under the Republican principles and a Republican tariff than under a Democratic regime.

For Money, Not For Glory — By Feg Murray

This little Arab, El Ouafi, is a funny fellow, as I thought on August fifth last when I first saw him, as he won the Marathon race at Amsterdam for dear old France, although he is no more French than the Graf Zeppeline. He was funny then because he asked for a cigarette the first thing after he finished his long run, and now he's funnier still because he is willing to run a series of 26-mile races for money against Joie Ray and any other athletes who can be lured into Tex Rickard's spider-web for the sake of the promoter's gold.

It's not that there's anything the matter with professional running; it's the idea of running around and around a little indoor track, wearing a cigarette ad on your chest and back, and thinking that thousands of people are going to pay thonsands of dollars to see you run yourself dizzy.

Still, they did it back in 1908 and '09 after the dramatic Marathon race in London between Hayes and Dorando, and people actually paid to see a Marathon dance contest. But El Ouafi's victory over Ray in Amsterdam was not so dramatic as Hayes's over Dorando, and the addition of Willie Kohlemainen to the party will not insure its financial success, as I see it. Add Texas Guinan and you might make a go of it—or better still, Aimee Semple McPherson! I doubt of Pheidippides, the first Marathon runner, who dropped dead in Athens as he announced the Greek victory over the Persians in the battle of Marathon, would think much of this race over the historic 26, 385 yards. You see, El Ouafi and Joie Ray aren't going to run just after they take part in a battle, and then I think doing it for money would be just a little bit more than the proud Pheidippides could understand.

The Cardinals, it seems, were different from oyster. They were no good in October.

Horses Pull Plane From Muddy Field

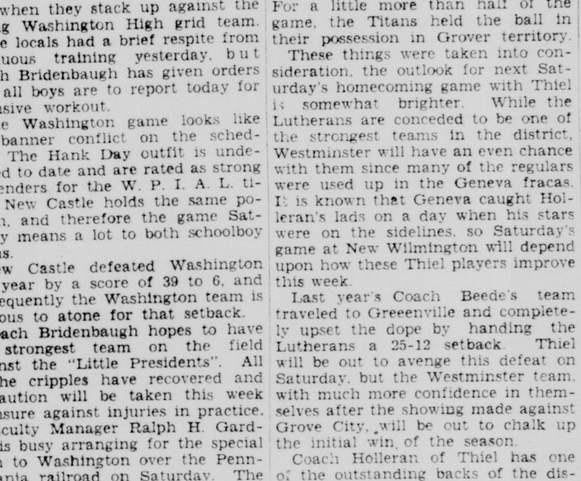

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Oct. 23.—Old Dobbin, always a friend in need, got the Chicago-Omaha mail plane out of the mud in a field near here today. The plane had failed twice to take off from the muddy field where it had been forced to land during a heavy rainstorm.

GENEVA-DUKE GRID TICKETS SOLD HERE

"Jokey" Travers, local impressario of ice and sports, announced today that tickets for the Geneva-Duquesne grid game at Beaver Falls on Saturday afternoon can be purchased in New Castle at the Sporting Goods Store. Travers received about 500 tickets from Graduate Manager Holohan yesterday for the benefit of the Duquesne alumni in Lawrence county.

MEN WHO GUARD THEIR HEALTH SMOKE CIGARS

92% of the Principal Executives of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana are Cigar Smokers

La Palina is America's Largest Selling High Grade Cigar [OVER A MILLION A DAY] its outstanding popularity is the best proof of its unusual quality

AS this survey demonstrates, an overwhelming majority of the principal executives of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana are cigar smokers—and they are men whose business duties require the maximum of mental and physical fitness.

Men who smoke cigars receive comfort without penalty to nerves and throat. Slowly, leisurely, they extract from each puff a full measure of enjoyment. Here are no harried nerves, no habit, no hurried lighting of one cigar from the end of another. And the rich flavor of a cigar makes inhalation unnecessary.

To quote a prominent New York throat specialist:

"The outstanding reason for throat trouble amongst smokers is the irritating, burning action of hot tobacco smoke on the sensitive throat tissues. Cigar smoke is cool—the tobacco burns slowly—the smoke is filtered and cooled as it is drawn through the cigar itself."

Make this test for a week. Smoke cigars exclusively and you will find yourself feeling better, with no cough or throat irritation, improved nerves, increased vitality and less of that tired feeling. To really test cigars with justice to yourself and to cigars, we suggest the test be made with La Palinas—America's largest selling, high grade cigar—over a million a day.

WHIPPET AGAIN LEADS IN RACE

In a 75-mile race held at Kinsman, Ohio, last Saturday, in which stock cars of various makes were entered, the Whippet Four again came in first. Chevrolet followed for second place, with Ford third.

The stock cars entered in the race were as follows: two Fords, Chevrolet, Durant, Plymouth, Chrysler and Whippet Four.

In a similar contest held at Stoneboro, Pa., several weeks ago the Whippet also took first place.

The Whippet Four, built substantially for real service and performance, is one of the popular low-priced cars on the market today. Quick get-away, speed and economy of operation are also other features of this well-known car.

BLOOD-THIRSTY FANS LUST IS APPRAISED

again Goodman sent him flying to the floor. Some of the fans tried to shove him back into the ring but a second in Goodman's corner rushed over and shoved the spectators away while Referee Chip counted him out. They are junior lightweights.

Mickie Dugan and Bud Bollender, featherweights, staged a hot, spectacular boxing bout in which class stuck out all over the combatants. The fight was not as spectacular as the others but the decision of a draw went over big.

Elmo Drops Page

Ernie Page substituted for Mike Sala and when he crawled in against Elmo The Mighty slugged Elmo all over the ring in the first round but in the second Elmo beat him to the punch and a right lifted Ernie half way out of the ring for a knockout.

Roy Itovino dropped Tom O'Leary three times in the first round and O'Leary made blood run from Itovino's nose in torrents. It spattered all over the ringside spectators and in the second O'Leary was on the receiving end.

In the third O'Leary came back and dropped Itovino, a south-paw for a count of nine. Itovino got up swung wild and dropped Tom. However, it was his dying effort and from then on it was all O'Leary who pounded him all over the ring.

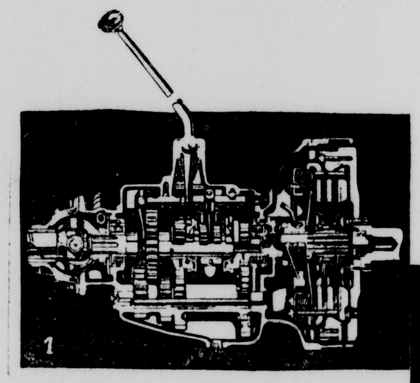

Itovino Game Kid

In fact when he sent Itovino down in the third in a neutral corner, Itovino's feet were on the floor and he was held up by his arms which were entwined about the ropes. Technically he was down but O'Leary nailed him with hooks.

The referee tried to shoo O'Leary away as he counted and could have given the fight to Itovino on a foul as Roy was down. But the excitement was so great the referee also was probably in a muddle.

O'Leary dropped Itovino again in the fourth. Roy got up without a count and the beating he took about his body will affect him for some time in all probability but he stuck it out. The decision was given to O'Leary.

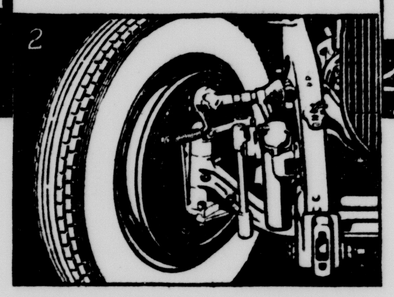

No Other Cars in the World possess these SAFETY FEATURES

1 . . Women delight in the sense of security instilled by the new and amazingly responsive Syncro-Mesh Silent-Shift Transmission.

2 . . The new Duplex-Mechanical System of Four-Wheel Brakes are a great and exclusive feature of safety and control.

3 . . No impact from stick, stone, or ball, or from collision, can shatter Cadillac-LaSalle Security-Plate Glass.

THE new Cadillacs and LaSalles are characterized by three revolutionary new safety features of inestimable value to every motorist.

In time of emergency there is no more vital safety factor than the new Cadillac-LaSalle Syncro-Mesh Silent-Shift Transmission which permits quiet, easy, instantaneous shifting of gears in the maze of city traffic or on mountain roads—at any speed—without pausing in neutral—and without the slightest suggestion of clashing. The tremendous advantage of this remarkable transmission can be had only in the new Cadillacs and LaSalles.

The second great safety feature is the new braking system. No other cars have equal braking protection, because no other cars have brakes so powerful, so positive in action, so velvet-like in grip and so responsive to the slightest pedal pressure. For these cars and these alone are equipped with the new Duplex-Mechanical System of Effortless Four-Wheel Brakes.

The third rests in the fact that all windows, doors and windshields are equipped with Cadillac-LaSalle Security-Plate Glass—so that you may forever dismiss from your mind any concern about being injured by flying glass fragments.

Ride or, better still, drive a new Cadillac or a new LaSalle and you realize at once how vastly they differ from all other cars. Remarkable handling ease, perfection of control and a grateful sense of security advance them far beyond mere newness.

These new and advanced safety factors are found only in Cadillac and LaSalle and are still further reasons why these cars appeal so strongly to women. Investigate these new features for yourself. Any Cadillac-LaSalle dealer will provide you with a car. Just telephone.

LASALLE $2295

LaSalle is now priced from $2295 to $2875; Cadillac from $3295 up; all prices f. o. b. Detroit. Cadillac-LaSalle Dealers welcome business on the General Motors Deferred Payment Plan. Enjoy the car now and pay out of income.

Notice

Sheriff sale advertisement, for November 5th, 1928 of house and lot, corner Oak and John Sts., 4th Ward, as property of John F. P. Kennelly, this property was deeded to Wm. M. Fears, and Marie Fears, his wife, Oct. 30th, 1919 and their deed recorded.

John F. P. Kennelly having given mortgage of $1000.00. Also his bond before the sale of this property to the above named Fears, they agreeing to assume, and pay same without recourse, being part of purchase price, Wm. M. Fears, and Marie Fears, having both died, leaving to survive them six children, four children being minors, so the attorney for less than one year's interest, proceed to collect on bond of John F. P. Kennelly who has no claim in the property, but his bond, for the mortgage, the city having sold this property this year in the name of Fears, for $20.08 1927 city tax.

John F. P. Kennelly has over one hundred thousand dollars worth of real estate in Lawrence county, and not one dollar of note, or mortgage, against it, or himself, also has plenty of cash to pay for this property, if forced to purchase same. God help the poor orphans, for no attorney will.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Aside from the sharp upward movements of a few of the high-priced industrials, the market made very little progress in the early trading today. The Coppers continued to force ahead under the stimulus of an increase in the price of foreign copper to 15¾ cents a pound, the highest in three years. The motor stocks sold off under profit-taking, and most of the steel stocks were heavy.

Atlantic Refining jumped 14 points at the opening to a new high at 218, but plenty of stock was offered at the high figures and about half of the early gains were lost. International Nickel opened 5 points higher at 185, but selling pressure forced the stock under 180. American International continued its spectacular advance and Alaska Juneau in the low-priced coppers, rising to above 9 in active trading. Chrysler, Hudson and other motor shares recovered their early losses and sold up a point on the average above Monday's close.

For the first time since September 28, the call loan renewal rate opened at 6 per cent. This was in line with expectations, following the district easing up of the money market yesterday afternoon. There were no important changes in industrial and business conditions, corporation earnings reports substantiating the fine records heretofore made public.

Better demand was reported for crude and refined oil, copper, steel and some of the textiles.

Active buying of the Great Northern Ore Certificates accompanied the circulation of reports of increase in the cash dividend [illegible] Radio-Keith Albee deal had been so accurately forecasted that there was little [illegible] around for these stocks on announcement of the formation of a new company.

OTHER WORLDS

By S. S. MYERS

"I am very much interested in your sketches appearing from time to time in The News, especially those relating to astronomy. I always make it a point to read everything on that subject that comes to my notice. There has been considerable speculation recently about the possibility of science finding a way to visit the moon. If such a feat could ever be accomplished would it be possible for a human being to live on the moon or on any of the other planets? If so, what would be his experiences?"

(J. L. F., New Castle, Pa.)

No human being could live on the moon unless he could take with him sufficient air to keep him alive, as there is no atmosphere on that luminary. Even then he could not withstand the terrible cold of a two weeks' lunar night with the temperature more than 350 degrees below zero. Then, on the other hand, during the two weeks of sunshine he would be roasted to death by the intense heat of the sun, for there would be no atmosphere to protect him from its direct scorching rays.

As to the planets, there are only two others beside the earth on which a human being could live, if he had any way of getting there, namely, Mars and Venus. None of the other planets are fitted for life as we know it. Neptune is nothing more than a huge ball of mist about as dense as fog; Uranus has a somewhat greater density while Saturn is about as dense as water. Jupiter, the giant of the solar system, is surrounded by a heavy envelope of steam and clouds as the earth was a few million years ago. Mercury is so near the sun and moves around it in such an elongated illipse, with one side always turned toward the sun, that we cannot conceive of any life there.

If a man from the earth could visit Mars or Venus he would find conditions on either planet quite different from what they are on the earth. On Mars he would find that he has lost considerable weight. If he weighed 150 pounds on the earth he would weigh only 57 pounds on Mars. This is due to the fact that Mars is only a little over half as large as the earth and is composed of less dense material. Hence the force of gravity is only one-third of that of the earth. He could leap three times higher and carry a load three times heavier than he could on the earth. That is, a load that would weigh 300 pounds on the earth would weigh only 100 pounds on Mars. He would find the atmosphere on Mars to be about as thin as on the highest mountains of the earth. The sun would appear a third smaller and the decrease in light would be in proportion, although the thin atmosphere would permit more of the sun's heat to reach the surface of the globe and the climate would not be very different from that of the earth. After he got acclimated he ought to get along fairly well. He would find the days to be about the same length as on the earth, but the seasons would be almost twice as long for it takes Mars 687 days to complete its journey around the sun.

When making his journey from the earth to Mars, and from Mars to Venus, it would be well to do so when the three planets are in conjunction—that is, when all three are on the same side of the sun. At such times the distance from the earth to Mars is only 36,000,000 miles, while the distance from the earth to Venus is 10,000,000 miles less.

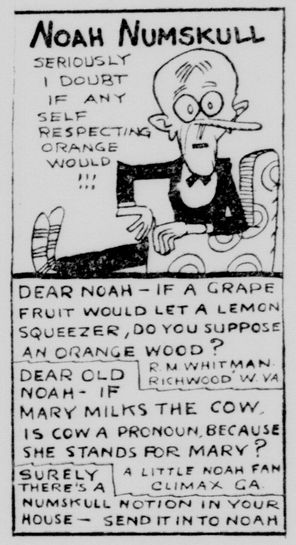

On his arrival on Venus he will find that he has practically regained his normal weight of 150 pounds and perhaps added a few pounds to it. While Venus is 300 miles less in diameter than the earth, its material is slightly more dense and the force of gravitation somewhat stronger. He would also find himself in an atmosphere more than twice as dense as that of the earth and he would experience great difficulty in breathing. Indeed he would need an extraordinary strong pair of lungs. Locomotion through the thick atmosphere would be somewhat impeded and he would be somewhat impedfed and he would find it almost impossible to run and make any headway. The sun would appear nearly twice as large as on the earth, but its light and heat would not penetrate the dense atmosphere and clouds so readily. Nevertheless the earth visitor would almost suffocate in the extreme murkiness and humidity and would hasten to get back to the earth again.

In fact, so long as he possesses his present anatomy and vital organs the earth is the best place for man and he would best try to remain here as long as he can.

RAILWAY QUEEN CHEERED.

When 16-year-old Mabel Kitson, who had been chosen "railway queen" by the National Union of Railwaymen of England to be their ambassador to the railwaymen of France arrived at Paris recently she was given an ovation by a group of French rail workers. The automobile in which she was conveyed to the hotel was a mass of floral gifts. At the Gard du Nord Miss Kitson laid one of the most beautiful bouquets at the foot of the memorial to the Northern Railway men of France who were lost in the World War. She was then presented a gold link a reproduction in miniature of the railway couplings used in 1828. A chain will be made of 16 such links the others being presented by the railway workers of other countries which she will visit. Miss Kitson's father is a Worcestshire signalman.

Plan Receptions For Homecoming

Westminster Fraternities And Sororities Make Plans For Week End

SPECIAL PARTY IN COLLEGE GYMNASIUM

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 23.—Plans are being made by fraternities and sororities at Westminster for receptions, parties, and dinners to be part of the homecoming day program next Friday evening and Saturday.

On Friday evening, Mrs. C. A. Dawson will entertain members of Sigma Kappa sorority at her home. A number of alumna will be present at the party.

Phi Delta Chi sorority has planned a buffet luncheon to be held in the sorority suite at the Hillside at noon on Saturday. The committee in charge of this affair includes Catherine Dick, Pittsburgh; Elizabeth Pollock, Waterford; and Catherine Agnew, of Dormont. These girls will be assisted by pledges Edith Caldwell of Crafton and Irene Haney of Sharon.

Plans are being made by Chi Omega sorority to entertain alumnae at the Cummings house Saturday morning. The committee in charge, which has planned a Bohemian party, is Mary Eckles, Sharpsville; Helen Shoaf, West Elizabeth; Mildred Somerlade, Claysville; and Gretchen Turner, Cambridge Springs.

Other sororities have made plans for the week-end, but have not completed details of the receptions and parties as yet. Among the fraternities, Theta Upsilon Omega has planned a stag party for Friday night; Kappa Phi Lamba has planned a dinner for Saturday noon. Delta Phi Sigma, Phi Pi Phi, and Epsilon Theta Pi are also planning special affairs in honor of alumni.

For the general college plans, Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald announces that there will be the football game and cross country meet in the afternoon. Another feature will be a parade of alumni and students, with a band from New Castle leading the procession. This band will also play at the grid game.

Following the game, a special party for alumni and students will be held in the gymnasium with the New Wilmington chapter of the alumni association in charge. Music and refreshments as well as a number of entertaining features staged by sorority and fraternity groups will make the evening an enjoyable one for the large group of graduates and former students who have announced that they will be present.

Woman Is Found Dead In Her Room

Miss Grace Darrow, Aged 52, Dies At Overlook Sanitarium, New Wilmington

Miss Grace Darrow, aged 52, a school teacher of Struthers, O., was found dead in her room at the Overlook Sanitarium, New Wilmington, this morning about 8 o'clock. Miss Darrow had come to the sanitarium about three months ago to undergo treatment for nervous trouble. She had apparently improved so much that she expected to leave the institution in a few days.

On Sunday Miss Darrow attended church in New Wilmington and last night she listened to Herbert Hoover's speech over the radio. When she bid other patients good-night about 10 o'clock last night she was apparently in good spirits.

This morning she did not come down for breakfast and when Miss Mabel Muirhead, a nurse, went to her room she found it locked and the key on the inside. A buzzer, which is in the room near a bed was sounded but still no response. Mr. Buchanan, an attendant at the sanitarium was summoned and entered the room by means of a window. He found Miss Darrow dead. Dr. Elizabeth McLaughry was summoned and found that Miss Darrow had likely been dead for several hours. Coroner Caldwell was called and friends in Struthers, O., were notified.

Miss Darrow is survived by an aged mother. She also had a brother who arrived at the Overlook this afternoon to take charge of the remains. Funeral services will be held from decedent's home in Struthers, O.

Reserve Officers To Meet Wednesday

Will Have Dinner Meeting At Elks Club; All Are Invited To Attend

One of the finest meetings ever to take place is indicated for the first fall meeting of the Shenango Chapter of the Officers Reserve Corps which will be held Wednesday evening, October 24 at 6:30 in the Elks club, declares Captain Melvin L. Craig, who is in charge of the reserve officers work in this district.

As yet, the speakers of the evening have not been named by the committee, but it is expected that these will be announced Wednesday. All reserve officers of the district, with their wives, have been invited to the meeting. Dinner will be served at 6:30 sharp.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

He was apparently from some district other than a city. The fresh color in his face, the hardened hands, and his countenance bespoke a life in the open, a tiller of the soil. He was rather fussed at the idea of speaking right up to a policeman but he managed it.

It seemed that he and his wife had driven in from a spot away up in the upper tier of counties to do some shopping and the wife had gone to some of the stores, leaving friend husband with the car. He wanted to park somewhere but he didn't want to get tagged.

Walking up to Officer William Tyrell he asked him if it would be all right to park for fifteen or twenty minutes on Mercer street. "You see" he said with a smile, "the wife is over shopping and I don't know just when she will get back, but she shouldn't be more than half an hour. I m a stranger here and I don't want to get tagged."

Officer Bill could have warned him of the dangers of parking overtime, or he could have answered him gruffly but he didn't. "Go right ahead stranger" said he. "I'll see that your car doesn't get tagged and don't rush the wife. Let her do her shopping."

And somehow it occurred to me that this chap would leave New Castle feeling just a little kindlier towards us all because a policeman had been courteous to him.

Speaking of policemen as we were, Officer Bill Walls just harvested a crop of peanuts, a rather odd crop for this part of the country. Back in the spring Bill was on a trip south and brought back with him some peanut seed, or sprouts, or cuttings or whatever starts peanuts.

All summer long he watched over the peanut crop with the tenderness of a mother watching her first born and yesterday he reaped his reward. Large juicy, double jointed peanuts, not enought to start a wholesale business with of course, but enough to convince him that peanuts could be raised here.

Orders will be received at the police station. Nothing less than carload lots considered.

Hadn't been over Albert street since it was paved, until yesterday afternoon. Now there's a change for you. Albert street always was one of the muddiest streets in the city. Something like Georgia gumbo. When you got in you could hardly get out. But its paved now, and the days of sinking up to the crankcase pan are over.

If you are a friend of Bille Crowe, of Croton, and everybody who ever knew him is a friend, you will be pleased to know that he is improving. There's "life in the old boy yet" and it is to be hoped that that genial smile of his that used to light the Croton fire station up, will soon be back on the job. Bill hasn't been well for a number of weeks and those arguments at the fire station haven't been nearly so interesting.

Hi-Y Clubs Plan Hallowe'en Party

Hi-Y clubs of New Castle will all join in a Hallowe'en masquerade party which will take place in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. October 26, at 7:30 o'clock. The party will include all members of the George Washington, Ben Franklin and Senior Hi-Y clubs and their friends.

Prizes will be given for the cleverest costumes and group games and stunts will feature the evening's entertainment. At a later hour there will be eats served.

The reason dances break up when they do is because by that time the men all need a shave again.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

THE MAIN THING

It is a great temptation to tell the boss all the details and processes by which you were able to get the results he was after. And in the telling of the story it is quite easy to infer your own cleverness and initiative and general capacity in the matter. Probably you are not "kidding" anybody except yourself. That's what we all do—fool ourselves and go away in the happy consciousness that we have fooled the boss. The fact is he is probably bored by your recital of details. He is less likely to get a good impression of you and to give you further promotion than he would be if you merely laid down the result and walked out on him.

CREDIT

If your work is not good enough to make its own speech, no amount of eloquence about it will make it better. The man who blows his own horn leads the parade, but the big fellows ride in motor cars behind the band.

BEING FAIR

It would seem to be very simple and easy to be fair. No matter what our personal opinion about a thing may be, it ought to be quite within reach of our powers to present a perfectly clear, fair statement of the case. But it is not so easy. Try it. Can you really appreciate and understand another man's viewpoint and sincerity about any issue? Can you really state the evidence witout putting your opponent in an unfavorable light? If you can, you have an unusually fine, fair and analytical mind.

INTANGIBLES

The hardest thing a salesman has to go up against is the "intangibles" in the mind of his prospect. What's that? Well, the salesman may be almost 100 per cent perfect in his goods and his presentation. He may convince you that his reasoning is entirely correct. He may convince you that his proposition is a little better than the other fellow's. But the thing he is up against and that is hardest to beat is the unexplainable conviction in your own mind that for some reason or other you desire the other fellow's goods. The most human thing about human beings is their childish likes and dislikes. For these strange likes and dislikes they are often only partly responsible. Perhaps they are not responsible at all. These things are there. They are the intangibles of the mind—and they are hard to beat.
